FRANCE ACCEPTS CONFERENCE PLAN

De Valera and His Party in London to Meet Lloyd George

London Dispatch Says They Were Given Tumultuous Reception at Euston Station; Arrangements For Meeting Not "Cut and Dried."

London, July 12.—Eamonn de Valera and the other Irish "republican" leaders who are to participate in the conference with Premier Lloyd George here Thursday arrived in London from Dublin this evening. They received a tumultuous reception at Euston Station.

London, July 12.—The Parliamentary correspondent of The London Times says the arrangements for the meeting of Premier Lloyd George and Eamonn de Valera are not to be "cut and dried," adding that Premier Smuts is not to be present at the opening of the interview, but that it is understood if De Valera desires the Overseas Dominions represented formally or informally "his wishes will meet with cordial acquiescence."

The correspondent states Mr. Lloyd George is prepared to see the representatives of the Sinn Fein by himself or have with him such other members of the Government as may appear desirable in view of the development of the discussions. It is predicted that the early discussions will be on broad principles, with the latter stages probably devoted to the setting up of committees to deal with particular subjects.

In London, The Times says that while Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, who returned to Belfast last night owing to the outbreak of disorders, is absent, the Marquis of Londonderry, Minister of Education in the Ulster Government, however, remained in London. Sir James it is declared, is prepared to return at any moment.

The plan of Thursday's interview, according to the correspondent, will be in the words of the Premier "to explore to the utmost the possibility of a settlement," the aim first being to discover whether the general lines of settlement can be marked out.

A Shot. News received at the Irish Office and reported by the parliamentary correspondent of The Times indicates that the last Sinn Fein shot was fired at 1.55 a. m. yesterday at the Kingscourt, County Cavan, where a revolver was aimed at a police patrol. No one was injured, and the shot was not returned.

Editorially, The Times says: "In appearance, if not in reality, the points of view of the parties to Thursday's conference will be widely divergent. The standpoint of the Sinn Feiners, temperamentally and intellectually, is different from that of Englishmen."

Riots. "The fact that Belfast has revived, even at this juncture, its old evil reputation for faction riots," it adds, "need not imperil the truce, but it does not free either side from very heavy responsibility." The paper attributes the outbreak mainly to the Orange anniversary, "when political feelings run high in Northern Ireland and men's passions are stirred by memories of a stormy past."

CELEBRATION HELD BY ORANGEMEN

Big Event in Belfast; No Disorder Reported

Belfast, July 12.—Nearly 40,000 Orangemen took part in the Twelfth of July demonstration here to-day in celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. The demonstration was the largest witnessed in many years. Up to noon it had not been attended by strife of any kind, the utmost good order prevailing throughout the morning.

The procession, an impressive display, made its way through streets gaily decorated for the occasion.

WINNIPEG ORANGE LODGES CELEBRATE

Winnipeg, July 12.—Led by a pipe band, approximately 2,000 members of Winnipeg and district Orange lodges marched through the streets of Winnipeg this morning to the station, where they entrained for Selkirk to hold a day celebration of "The Twelfth." At Selkirk Park the parade formed at 10 o'clock and marched through the town of Selkirk, returning to the park for a large sports programme to be followed by addresses and the passage of resolutions.

CELEBRATION IN TERMINAL CITY

Vancouver, July 12.—To the strains of brass bands and roll of drums Vancouver County Orange Association celebrated the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne to-day. More than 3,000 marched in the parade. After addresses the afternoon was devoted to a sports programme.

GREEK FORCES ON OFFENSIVE IN ASIA MINOR

Athens, July 12.—Official confirmation of the beginning of the Greek offensive against the Turkish Nationalists was supplied in a Government statement last night announcing a preliminary movement in the operation.

CHRISTIAN TRIBE IN ALBANIA IS REPORTED IN REVOLT

Rome, July 12.—The Epoca reports that the Miridites, a Christian tribe inhabiting Upper Albania, are in a state of rebellion. Jugo-Slav troops have been sent to various Albanian frontier towns.

France Insists Germany Punish War Criminals

Paris, July 12.—France has informed Germany she will continue to occupy the Rhine region until Germany has complied with the conditions of the Treaty of Versailles relative to the punishment of those who violated the rules of civilized warfare in the world war, Premier Briand told the Senate to-day.

Replying to a question, he characterized the findings of the Leipzig court as "scandalous."

Paris, July 12.—The Allied Supreme Council probably will meet toward the end of this month, either in Boulogne or in Paris, it was announced by the French Foreign Office this morning. The Upper Silesian question will be uppermost in the discussions and it is expected Great Britain may bring up the question of the evacuation of Dusseldorf, Duisberg and Ruhrort as a recognition of the disposition of the present German Government to carry out the terms of the Treaty of Versailles.

HARVEY IS NEW HOUSING HEAD

The Mayor Joins Committee; Money Exhausted, City After More

Alderman John Harvey has been appointed Chairman of the Civic Housing Committee in succession to Alderman George Sangster, who resigned last week, angered by hints that he was allowing party politics to influence his work. In making this announcement this morning Mayor Porter added that the Housing Committee will now be composed of Alderman Harvey, Alderman Woodward and His Worship. The Mayor added that all available housing money had now been allocated, and that strong efforts would be made to secure further housing funds from the Provincial Government.

Alderman Harvey is thoroughly familiar with the work of the Housing Committee of which he has been a member for a long time, and, moreover, has had experience in building in his private life. The Mayor said: "I am assuming the third position on the committee because I don't like to ask an alderman to step into a position in which he is liable to the criticism that he is playing politics." A criticism which caused Alderman Sangster to resign. I don't mind risking such criticism myself, but I think it is hardly likely I shall receive any from the political standpoint. I did not want to place any alderman in such an awkward position, so I have just taken on the job myself."

Five More Loans. The new Housing Committee met under Alderman Harvey this morning and decided to extend five more housing loans. These loans will absorb all the housing money available now. Six loans were authorized by the Council at its last meeting out of

WALKER REACHES THIS COAST FROM NOVA SCOTIA

Vancouver, July 12.—Claiming to have walked from Glace Bay, N. S., to this city in 122 days, James Doucette, of Glace Bay, arrived here to-day after his long hike across the Dominion, and presented to Acting Mayor Owen a letter from the Mayor of Glace Bay. Doucette claims to have broken the record for the transcontinental walk, his time being twelve days better than that of Mr. and Mrs. Dill, who made it recently in 134 days.

Doucette, who is a returned man, says he walked 100 miles from Hudson Bay to enlist. While overseas he was gassed.

Harry Hawker Was Killed in England, Aeroplane Burned

London, July 12.—Harry G. Hawker, the famous aviator, was killed on the Hendon flying field to-day. His machine burst into flames as it alighted on the field.

Hawker achieved fame in May, 1919, when he attempted a trans-Atlantic flight from the Canadian coast to Ireland, but failed, his machine falling into the water in mid-ocean. He was rescued by the Danish steamship Mary. On his return to Great Britain he was decorated by King George.

The trans-Atlantic crossing was achieved a month later by Captain Sir John Alcock, who himself died in December, 1919, as a result of injuries received in a crash to earth near Cottesford, France.

FIRE IN TOWN IN FRANCE TO-DAY TOOK MANY LIVES

Daax, France, July 12.—Many persons were burned by a falling wall during a fire which destroyed a mercantile establishment here owned by Senator Miller-Lacroix to-day. Eleven bodies had been taken from the debris up to a late hour this afternoon.

FRENCH RATIFY TRIANON TREATY

Pact With Hungary Is Approved by Senate

Paris, July 12.—Ratification of the Treaty between the Allied Powers and Hungary, known as the Trianon Treaty, was voted by the French Senate last night.

Included in the ratification was the protocol of the Treaty, which stipulates that protection will be given to racial and religious minorities in Hungarian territories as well as districts detached from that country and placed under the control of Czechoslovakia, Roumania and Jugo-Slavia.

DROUGHT MAKES BRITISHERS SUFFER

Period of Unusual Heat Unrelieved by Rain

London, July 12.—(Canadian Associated Press.) The great heat continues and Great Britain is suffering much from the prolonged drought. There has been practically no rain in the south of England for two months and the highest temperatures for the past forty years have been recorded for the months of June and July. Extensive heat fires are reported from all over the country, and thousands of acres have been consumed. There is a water famine in many districts and supplies are being hauled for great distances.

RAILWAY WAGE NEGOTIATIONS

Montreal, July 12.—Railway companies to-day resumed direct negotiations with employees relative to the twelve per cent. reduction in wages and revision of working conditions. Early this afternoon it was declared that small likelihood existed of an amicable arrangement being reached for some days. The companies in all cases are pursuing the policy of endeavoring to reach the reduction by conference and negotiations rather than by arbitrary means. FRONT

Harding Awaits One Nation's Reply

French Ready For Free Discussion of Disarmament Plan

Paris, July 12.—The French Government, under reservations regarding the proposed conference in Washington on limitation of armaments, being willing, it is stated, to discuss the limitation of land as well as of naval armaments, always with the proviso that ample protection be assured against any further eventual aggression from the east.

CANADA TO HAVE SHARE IN DEBATE

Voice at Conference on Armament Limitation

London, July 12.—(By Grattan O'Leary, Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press.) The conference in Washington on limitation of armaments is not expected to be held until some time in October. It is recognized that in a matter of such great moment to the world it is the better part of wisdom to make haste slowly and it is obvious that a great deal of preliminary work will be necessary before such a gathering can be got into motion.

Practically speaking there will be two conferences. The first is to be confined to Japan, China, the United States, Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain, while the second will include all the great world powers, France, Italy, Holland and other European nations probably taking part. So far as Canada is concerned, it can be definitely stated that she will play a part in both conferences.

President Meighen's intention, therefore, is to reach Ottawa before August 1 and clear up whatever political and administrative problems toward a Pacific conference and prepare to go to Washington.

GIVEN SUPPORT BY NATIONS OF EMPIRE

Disarmament Move Approved, Says London Paper

London, July 12.—The Daily Mail says: "The United States may well be proud that President Harding, by his noble and great-hearted step, has given her the honor of leading in a sincere and earnest effort to achieve practical disarmament."

The Daily Chronicle remarks that there was simultaneous initiative by the United States and Great Britain toward a Pacific conference and says that from different starting points they converged toward a common conclusion.

A Help. "It should be a great help to President Harding," adds The Chronicle, "that the British Empire, including three white peoples with Pacific seaboard, have met him ideas half-way. He may be assured that we shall support him with no less sincerity in a wider scheme of disarmament."

SAYS JAPAN LOOKS TOWARD SIBERIA

Abe, University Professor, Speaks of Migration

Seattle, July 12.—Japan, seeking an outlet for her increasing population, looks not to America, but to Eastern Siberia, Ito Abe, dean of the department of political science at Waseda University, Japan, declared in a statement made public here to-day. Professor Abe will sail for Japan next Thursday after accompanying the Waseda baseball team on its American tour.

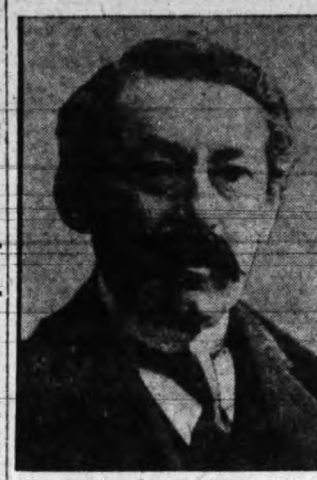

Discussing the California-Japanese question, Professor Abe said: "To me, the California issue is a simple one. California has a perfect right to put the bars up against the coming of immigrants. Our Government would undoubtedly take the same attitude as California if our Empire were in danger of being flooded by foreign peoples. It is the right of private ownership. The system of private ownership may be superseded, but until that time the California attitude is the correct one."

FIRE IN HAMBURG SHIPYARD CAUSES A HEAVY LOSS

Berlin, July 12.—A fire which broke out in the Blohm and Voss shipyard at Hamburg last night caused damage amounting to many millions of marks. The timber sheds, with great quantities of building material were destroyed.

CHILD POISONED. Regina, July 12.—The two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Peter Scollin, of Radium, a settlement south of Shaunavon, died as the result of drinking gopher poison.

PREMIER TO SPEAK FOR FRANCE AT BIG CONFERENCE

Paris, July 12.—It was said at the Foreign Office to-day that Premier Briand probably would represent France at the proposed conference in Washington on limitation of armaments if circumstances should permit it, and that whoever was sent would go with the idea of co-operating wholeheartedly in any scheme for disarmament compatible with the security of France.

PREMIERS APPROVE HARDING'S STEP

Hughes and Massey Speak of Disarmament

London, July 12.—Appreciative messages from the Prime Ministers of Australia and New Zealand on the step taken by President Harding in issuing an invitation that a conference on limitation of armaments be held in Washington are printed by The London Times.

Premier Hughes of Australia is quoted as saying: "The whole world will hail with joy the message, which holds out hope to all mankind. The conference on the Pacific problems and disarmament offer the prospect of freedom from the nightmare hanging over the heads of the whole world, especially the heads of the three great naval powers."

End of War. Premier Massey of New Zealand congratulates President Harding on his action and hopes he will be thoroughly successful in bringing nearer the time when wars will cease.

The Daily Telegraph praises President Harding's courage and judgment and outlines the problem of the conference as being "to devise a scheme which will satisfy the opinion, protect China's development, and be compatible with the true interests of Japan and the British Empire."

PACIFIC COAST OFFENCE PLANS OF UNITED STATES

Washington, July 12.—The House Naval Committee was urged to-day to provide by special legislation for projects for Pacific Coast naval defenses eliminated from the naval appropriation bill. Representative Miller, Republican, Washington, asked for a bill to permit acceptance from King County, Washington, of a tract of Sand Point, near Seattle, for a naval aviation base, and purchase of adjoining property for $900,000.

Washington Conference May Be Held in Autumn

London, July 12.—It appears to be the consensus of opinion here that the conference on limitation of armaments will be held during the coming autumn, or at the latest during the early months of 1922.

Viscount Grey of Falden, who was British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs when the war began, may lead Great Britain's delegates at the disarmament conference, says The Daily Mail, which adds that a statesman at least of the type of Viscount Grey should be chosen and that he should act with experts from the Dominions at the conference.

After the preliminary and technical work of the conference is completed, The Mail says, Premier Lloyd George may go to the United States to attend the final moulding of the agreement.

In Commons. Seldom have such scenes been witnessed in the British House of Commons as that enacted there yesterday when Premier Lloyd George told of President Harding's proposal and announced Great Britain's acceptance.

Downing Street and the Foreign Office looked upon the President's invitation to the Allied nations to confer on limitation of armaments as most momentous. The Prime Ministers of the Dominions are reported to be planning to cut

New International Conference Scheme Rapidly Takes Shape

Favorable Reply From France Leaves But One Government to Answer American President's Invitation to Washington to Discuss Disarmament and Pacific Problems.

Washington, July 12.—Favorable responses are understood to have been received to-day from all but one of the powers to which the United States suggested a conference on reduction of armaments and related questions.

Paris, July 12.—The French Government will accept with pleasure and without reserve an invitation to a conference on limitation of armaments. This is stated in a note sent to the President of the United States to-day by the Government of France.

Premier Briand also announced publicly in the Chamber of Deputies that the Government would eagerly accept such an invitation. The Premier expressed thanks to President Harding for "his noble initiative" and the Chamber broke into cheers.

The French Government's note was sent this morning to the American Embassy, from where it was forwarded during the forenoon to Washington.

It was stated at the Embassy that as yet there was no indication when the formal invitation would be presented to the French Government.

The note to President Harding, compiled at the Foreign Office by M. deperetti de la Rocca, Director of Political Affairs, stated that the French Government would be happy to receive an invitation to a disarmament conference in Washington. It was while the Political Director's note was on its way to the United States Embassy that the Chamber of Deputies was unanimously applauding the announcement by Premier Briand of the cordial attitude of France toward the prospective invitation.

In Senate. The Senate in its turn was aroused by the dispatch of the French note. The announcement of the French Government's action was made to that body.

Favorable. The general impression made upon France by President Harding's move is most favorable, as indicated by expressions on all sides. Financial circles are particularly appreciative in view of the prospect held out of great economies in the maintenance of the navy and the army and the subsequent relief of pressure upon the Treasury.

LLOYD GEORGE SAID TO HAVE STATED BRITISHERS' VIEWS

London, July 12.—Premier Lloyd George, says The Morning Post, in his speech yesterday in the House of Commons, admirably expounded the country's sentiments and policy with regard to President Harding's proposal. The paper expresses the opinion that the maintenance of cordial relations with the United States is the first essential to Great Britain's peace and prosperity.

The Post, which favors continuance of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, declares it would gladly see the United States, France and Italy added to it, as such a compact, so far as humanly possible, would insure the peace of the world.

Washington Conference May Be Held in Autumn

At any rate, says The Tages Zeitung, the spirit in which President Harding's invitation will be received will be of valuable index to the attitude of the different nations toward the project.

The Vossische Zeitung declares that in designating Washington as the place for the conference, President Harding proposes to avoid the error made by "his isolated predecessor" at Versailles, as both the President and the American delegates there would be in a position to keep in close touch with Congressional and public opinion.

CONFERENCE PLAN NOT AIMED AS BLOW AT LEAGUE

London, July 12.—The Daily News expresses pleasure that there is no real reason to suppose that President Harding's scheme for a conference on limitation of armaments is designed as a blow against the authority of the League of Nations. "It might be a grave thing for peace in the Pacific," says the paper, "if the attainment involved the strapping of the machinery for peace in Europe. Happily we can see nothing in the proposals themselves which the stern champion of the League cannot heartily welcome."

AUSTRALIANS SAY MOVE A GOOD ONE

Uphold Plan for Disarmament Conference

London, July 12.—Gratification throughout Australia over President Harding's disarmament conference proposal is unanimous, says a Melbourne dispatch to The London Times. The point chiefly discussed in Australia, the dispatch says, is the effect the conference will have upon the Anglo-Japanese Treaty. Australia continues to be deeply attached to the Treaty, although in the opinion of many the country would readily subscribe to any larger movement which would supersede it. Public men, according to the dispatch, which has been taken from the "Aloofness" of the United States.

GERMAN COMMENTS ON BIG CONFERENCE

Writers Give Views on Disarmament Move

Berlin, July 12.—The Volks Zeitung describes President Harding's invitation to a disarmament conference as a "political event of foremost importance." "If the American President succeeds in carrying his undertaking to a successful conclusion the nations of the world will have realized the longing of centuries and President Harding will have set up for himself a monument more durable than the fame of all the generals of history."

Clearing House. The Tageblatt believes President Harding has seized the opportunity to take the initiative, which has most been lost, through Great Britain's suggestion that Anglo-Japanese pact be made the subject of discussion among the three powers.

"If the complicated experiment proposed by President Harding succeeds, it will, in all probability, resolve itself into a gigantic clearing house operation," is The Tageblatt's prediction.

An Indication. At any rate, says The Tages Zeitung, the spirit in which President Harding's invitation will be received will be of valuable index to the attitude of the different nations toward the project. The Vossische Zeitung declares that in designating Washington as the place for the conference, President Harding proposes to avoid the error made by "his isolated predecessor" at Versailles, as both the President and the American delegates there would be in a position to keep in close touch with Congressional and public opinion.

WAL. RICHARDSON WON A PLACE IN BISLEY MATCH

Bisley, Eng. July 12.—In the 500-yard Sweepstake Sgt. Emslie, 48th Highlanders, Toronto, won first place and Major F. Richardson, 16th Canadian Scottish, Victoria, B. C., was second.

Two Canadians, Sergeant C. M. Emslie, Toronto, and Major Northover, of Winnipeg, came 51st and 56th, respectively, in the Queen Mary Prize competition, winning one pound each. Sgt. Emslie is shooting for the first time at a Bisley meet. The Queen Mary match is a rapid fire squared competition, open only to past and present members of the forces.

The Hamilton Leigh Challenge Cup, open to teams of four present members of the forces from any one unit, was shot yesterday and won by the first battalion team of the Scots Guards. The distance was 300 yards, 19 shots per man, with a time limit of one minute, 15 seconds, per shot. Won by School.

The Birmingham Small Arms School won both the Canada Challenge Shield awarded in connection with the Queen Mary competition, and the Cheylesmore rapid fire competition.

petition. The Canada Shield, worth £75, was donated by the Dominion of Canada and is open to any number of teams of five, present members of the forces, competing in the Queen Mary match from any one unit, the prize going to the unit whose five selected members make the highest scores in the Queen Mary competition. In the Cheylesmore match, open to teams of four present members of the forces from any one unit, the distance is about 250 yards, and each man shoots ten shots after covering a course of about 100 yards.

In the Wimbledon Cup competition for match rifles, the winner was Major Rankin, of the Royal Scots Regiment in the shoot-off of a tie with Captain Strachan and Captain Gunn, of the Royal Scots and Colonel Ellis, of the Sherwood Foresters. This match is open to all competitors, 15 shots being fired at the 1,100 yards range.

FINE PRAIRIE CROP PROMISE

Wheat-cutting First Week in August

Winnipeg, July 12.—With the crop situation promising and the best in any year at this date, with the exception of 1915, wheat harvesting on the prairies should commence about the first week in August and be fairly general a week later, states the weekly crop report issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway here today. Approximately fifty per cent. of the wheat is headed out and the remainder as well as advanced in the blade. Rain is needed in parts of Western and Northwestern Saskatchewan and in Southern Alberta. Several points in the southern part of the province report red rust in a very slight nature, and black rust is similarly light in the vicinity of Brandon and Waukegan. Seventy-five per cent. of the wheat is in head.

Saskatchewan. Saskatchewan would have been better with more rain, especially in the extreme western and north-western areas, but on the whole remains promising.

Alberta. Fairly heavy showers are reported from the northern portion of Alberta and conditions are very promising. In the southern section, so badly drought stricken, crop prospects are improving and with reasonable rains this week Southern Alberta should produce a safe forty per cent. crop. Central areas are fairly good but need rain immediately.

Costa Rican Beauty in Chicago Takes Action

Chicago, July 12.—Miss Elida Piza, Costa Rican beauty, whose romantic marriage to Herbert P. Crane of Chicago ended in the divorce court last Fall, has started proceedings to collect the remaining $70,000 of a $100,000 cash settlement awarded her. Crane accused Miss Piza of stripping his country home, alleging that she took everything but a stone chair weighing 2,000 pounds, a hot stove and an iron cabinet. She has been sued for the balance of the $100,000 she says is due.

TURKISH WOMAN URGES WOMEN TO FIGHT THE GREEKS

A Turkish Joan of Arc, Aishe Hanum, has started a woman's fighting brigade against the Greeks. Her organization, called the Kain brigade, has already taken part in active fighting and she continues to enroll new recruits, according to an Associated Press mail dispatch from Ankara.

This is the first time in Turkish history that a woman has been so militantly active. She has been dubbed by the people of Anatolia "The Conqueror." Her personality is in distinct contrast to the beautiful Halide Edib Hanum, the writer and graduate of the American Constantinople College, who has been so active in Nationalist politics for two years and fled to the interior in March, 1920, to escape imprisonment by the Allies.

Aishe Hanum is a stern, dark woman of the soil, aged fifty-two, who sees visions and believes she is inspired by the Prophet. She wears a veil but has cast aside skirts. She carries a rifle and when not at the front goes through the villages, urging the peasants to contribute food and money and their able-bodied women to cast out the enemy stranger from the homeland.

As Nationalist soldiers, the uniform of the Kain Brigade corresponds to that of its leader.

NIAGARA RIVER TAKES A VICTIM

Six Deaths Reported in City of Montreal

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 12.—Gordon McLeod, twenty-two, a bank teller, was drowned in the Niagara River. He dived into the water and was not seen again.

In Montreal. Six cases of violent death were reported to coroners' juries as a result of week-end activities.

One was a case of death from heat prostration; a boy was run over by an automobile; a man and a woman fell from balconies; a man committed suicide.

In addition to the foregoing, Gertrude Goldstein, sixteen, was drowned yesterday afternoon at Chateaugay Basin, when a boat in which she was riding with eight children was overturned by the wash of a motorboat. The children were all saved.

CANADIAN PLAN IS WORLD'S HOPE

Conference Looked Forward to With Confidence

London, July 12.—(Canadian Press) The London Times carries the following statement from Premier Meighen: "It was with the greatest satisfaction that I learned of the invitation to hold a conference on limitation of armaments." To a distracted world it is new hope and promise of relief from the uncertainties and apprehensions that have clouded the future. Nowhere will it be welcomed more eagerly than in Canada. It has been the unwavering belief of Canadians that the issues involved in the question of armaments, as well as in the closely connected problems of disarmament and the Far East, can be settled by a full and frank consultation among the nations chiefly interested that is, by the method of free conference.

Their belief is based on their experience with this method in the New World and they will unquestionably seek every means to ensure successful results from the momentous proposal made by the President of the United States in the name of his country.

The British press is unanimous in stating that the step taken by President Harding was made possible only by the conference of Empire-Prime Ministers. It laid the foundation for what has been done, and the United States President did not make his offer, quite properly, until he was certain it would not be refused.

As for Canada, the triumph of the conference idea marks the complete vindication of her stand. Representatives of other Dominions as well as the Mother Country, believed such a step could be taken, but they have been brought about, Mr. Meighen, believing that in opposing the Japanese alliance and urging a conference regarding Pacific problems he was interpreting the sentiment of the Canadian people without regard to policy, never wavered in his stand. When Lord Curzon announced that the alliance must remain in force for another year snuffed out the Canadian Prime Minister's fight to have the treaty denounced, he persisted successfully in his demand for a Pacific conference, and it was owing to this that the Canadian Press was able to announce nearly two weeks ago that such a gathering would be held.

FAST EAST-BOUND MAIL SERVICE

Vancouver, July 12.—In an endeavor to obtain improved mail service between Vancouver and points east of here, local business interests will probably present a request to the Post Office Department and to the C. The Trans-Canada brings mail here from the East, because when it was decided not to carry mail West on this train the vigorous protests of business men in the East induced those responsible to keep up the fast service.

TO PAY MORE FOR CANADIAN WHEAT

Americans Will Feel New Tariff Burden

Regina, July 12.—Wheat prices in the Canadian West will not be affected by the new American tariff, except in so far as this interference with free shipment to the United States may be exploited by market manipulators according to an opinion expressed by J. B. Musselman, central secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association.

"So long as the United States requires the Canadian prairie hard wheat for blending with her own winter wheat, it would seem that her own people will have to pay the import duty on it, besides its competitive world value," he said. "The United States millers will be under a handicap in competing with the Canadian millers when it is considered that imported wheat is used for blending in making flour for export to Europe."

The meat industry, Mr. Musselman believes, will be helped by the new tariff. "The effect of this tariff on our meat industry is likely to be very much more detrimental to the farmers of the West than to the meat packers," he said. "The tariff will be a handicap to the Canadian meat packers when it is considered that imported meat is used for blending in making flour for export to Europe."

North Bay, Ont., July 12.—Apparently succumbing to the effects of fighting bush fires in an intense heat, William Combs, forty-one, fire ranger at Nett Lake, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. He leaves a widow and seven children.

VALUE OF LONDON MEETING PROVED

Lloyd George Spoke of Disarmament Move

London, July 11.—Speaking of the part played by the Empire-Prime Ministers' conference in the events leading up to President Harding's invitation to limit armaments in Washington on limitation of armaments and the Pacific problem, Premier Lloyd George said in the Commons this afternoon: "The conference would not have been taken in so prompt, effective and unanimous a fashion but for the intimate personal consultations between the Prime Ministers of the Empire and the representatives of India, which this gathering enabled us to enjoy. We have taken counsel together without reserve."

"With this result before us I need not elaborate the value of intimate collaboration in the conduct of the Empire's affairs."

At another point in his speech he said: "In the United States we see today, as we have always seen, the people closest to our aims and ideals and with whom it is for our deepest desire and our interest, but a deeply and distinct, to consult and to cooperate."

There was cheering from the House at this point. Mr. Lloyd George went on to say that the object of our discussion was to find a method of combining all these three factors in a policy that would remove the burden of a heavy naval expenditure in the Pacific, with all the evils that such expenditure would entail, and that would ensure the development of all legitimate national interests in the Far East.

"We had first to ascertain our exact position in regard to the Anglo-Japanese agreement. There had been much doubt as to whether the notification to the League of Nations last July constituted denunciation of the agreement. If it did it was necessary to decide on some interim measures regarding the agreement, pending fuller discussions with the Pacific powers, and negotiations with this object in view already are in progress."

"If, on the other hand, it did not, the agreement would remain in force until it was denounced either by Japan or ourselves, and would not be determined until twelve months from the date on which notice of denunciation was given."

United States. "A broader discussion of the Far Eastern and Pacific policy to which we turned showed a general agreement on the main lines of the course which the Imperial Cabinet desired to pursue. I have already explained that the first principle of our policy was friendly co-operation with the United States. We are all convinced that upon this, more than any single factor, depends the peace and well-being of the world."

Japan. "We also desire, as I have stated, to maintain our close friendship and co-operation with Japan. The greatest merit of that most valuable friendship is that it harmonizes the influences and activities of the greatest Asiatic powers, and thus constitutes an essential safeguard to the well-being of the British Empire and peace of the East."

"We also aim at preserving the open door in China and at giving the Chinese people every opportunity for peaceful progress and development."

In addition to these considerations we desire to safeguard our own vital interests in the Pacific and preclude any competition in naval armaments between the Pacific powers."

Views Stated. "All the representatives of the Empire agreed that our standpoint on these questions should be communicated with complete frankness to the United States, Japan and China, with the object of securing an exchange of views which might lead to more formal discussions and a conference. Lord Curzon accordingly held conversations of a week with the American and Japanese Ambassadors and the Chinese Minister, in which he communicated the views of the Imperial Cabinet and asked in turn for the views of the respective Governments. He expressed at the conversations the very strong hope that this exchange of views might, if their Governments shared our desire in that respect, pave the way to conferences on the problems of the Pacific Far East."

5,000 MEN FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Quebec Situation; Fire Set in New Brunswick

Quebec, July 12.—Five thousand men have been engaged in fighting forest fires in different parts of the province. It is estimated by local officials. Most of the fires which broke out last week are now reported to be under control.

Showers helped considerably, and there should be more rain within the next few days. It is hoped that all the fires will be extinguished.

It is impossible at present, officials state, to make an estimate of the losses, but they will be heavy.

New Brunswick. Fredericton, N. B., July 12.—A report that one of the recent forest fires in New Brunswick was of incendiary origin has been made to the Department of Lands and Mines.

Another report alleges that the carelessness of a party of fishermen caused a serious bush fire in the Salmon River district.

TRY TO INCREASE RIVER SHIPMENTS

Americans Promote Mississippi and St. Lawrence Schemes

Washington, July 12.—(Canadian Press)—Important conferences were begun here yesterday between Middle Western and Upper Mississippi River valley members of Congress and Edward Collock, of St. Louis, head of the system of steel barge lines on the Mississippi River.

The purpose is to promote shipments of heavy freights, including coal and export agricultural products by river and water routes. It is charged that railroad freight rates are unreasonably high. Promotion of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence waterway is linked up with the general plan, and while the present conference directly concerns Mississippi traffic, the broad purpose of those participating in it is to bring about water outlet for the interior of the United States through both the Mississippi and the St. Lawrence.

SOIL SURVEY IN SASKATCHEWAN

Big Task Is Started by Three Experts

Regina, July 12.—In co-operation with the Department of Agriculture, Professor Roy Hansen and two assistants, of the College of Agriculture, are conducting a soil survey of Saskatchewan as recommended by the Better Farming Commission in its report to the Government. Active work is now being carried on in a block of four municipalities in Cypress constituency.

The intention is eventually to have a complete survey of the whole Province that will reveal all of the data in regard to soil conditions that are essential to a determination of the most profitable type of farming to be carried out in each district. A second and perhaps other surveying parties will probably be put into the field next year, as it is realized that the intensity of the undertaking will require years to complete the survey.

When a sufficient number of representative districts have been covered they will be mapped and the information secured in regard to them will be made public.

FRENCH MESSAGE TO CANADIANS

Fayolle, Home-Bound, Sends Wireless From Ship

Montreal, July 12.—Rt. Hon. C. J. Doherty, Acting Prime Minister of Canada, received from Marshall Fayolle aboard the steamship La France the following message:

"Allow me on behalf of the Franco-Canadian Mission to express to his excellency the Governor-General to the Government of the Dominion, to the provinces and to the Canadian nation, their deeply stirred sentiments for the reception accorded them. In the name of France they wish to repeat anew to Canada, friend and ally, their gratitude. The unforgettable days we have spent among you give me assurance that a sentiment of unalterable sympathy links our two nations together. The French Mission was happy to realize this. In France we will never forget it."

Mr. Doherty sent the following reply by wireless: "Your message went straight to our hearts. France already had all the sympathies of the Canadian nation. Your stay among us confirmed it. The British Empire, and Canada in particular, was already closely united to France by the bonds of the Entente Cordiale. Your visit has given us the assurance that these bonds will last forever. Au Revoir."

Experience Teaches

Twenty-four million dollars was paid to beneficiaries by the life insurance companies in Canada last year, and thirty-one million dollars was paid to living policyholders.

Of the 11,450 policies which became claims:

- 850 were in force less than a year.
- 1,050 less than two years.
- 2,100 between three and five years.
- 2,450 between five and ten years.
- 2,800 between ten and twenty years.
- 2,200 more than twenty years.

—and all of these persons were in good health when they applied for life insurance.

Life is very uncertain, as last year's death claims show, and, on the other hand, insurance money has brought untold benefit to thousands of homes and individuals.

No temporary difficulty should induce you to deprive your dependents of life insurance protection.

PREPARE FOR VISIT OF PRINCE OF WALES

Japanese Are Looking Forward to Proposed Tour

Japanese exchanges to hand on the Empress of Russia state that steps are already being taken for the proposed visit of the Prince of Wales to the land of the Rising Sun to return the visit made to his country by the Japanese Imperial Heir recently. Although the details of his trip are yet in their infancy it is expected that he will leave England for the Orient sometime next Summer, visiting India en route to Japan. The Crown Prince of Belgium also plans to return the Crown Prince of Japan's visit some time next year.

Plans for Welcome

It is said that among the plans already made by the Department of the Imperial Household to entertain their guests, repairs have been started on the detached palace at Kasumigaseki, where all guests of the Japanese Government are housed during their stay in Tokyo. The last person to be entertained there was Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, who visited Japan last July. It is also said that the Imperial Palace in Kyoto and the villas at Nikko and other places are to be equipped with adequate accommodations for the guests of the nation. An official of the Imperial Household Department said:

"As to the proposed visit of the Prince of Wales and other personages, it is certain that the Department of the Imperial Household will work out a programme that will enable both the Imperial Family and the nation in general to participate in the joy and the cordiality of receiving such distinguished guests."

More Freedom Wanted

Regarding the popular criticism of the Government that when the rulers of foreign countries or members of their families visit Japan they are guarded closely by state officials and not allowed the freedom that should be accorded them, certain officials declare that the fault is with the country as a whole rather than themselves. They declare that lack of European-style hotels necessitates the stay of Royal visitors in Imperial palaces and residences of Imperial relatives, thus causing the belief that freedom of conduct is denied them while they are here.

Changing Policy

"It is very interesting to note the recent progress of the world and the radical changes which the world has undergone in the years since the World War, which has affected provincial formalities and court ceremonies of the Department. Since the departure of the Crown Prince to Europe, the unprecedented cordiality and enthusiasm with which he has been received at every port he touched on his way to England as well as by the British and other European nations after his arrival in London have been successively reported by cablegrams.

"The Crown Prince of Japan is greatly pleased with the freedom of conduct of Imperial personages in Europe, a freedom such as he never enjoyed at home. At present the undemocratic attitude of the officers of the Imperial Household Department who accompanied the Crown Prince to Europe has become the centre of criticism of the Japanese community abroad while, criticism has always been directed at the Department here, which has prevented the united efforts of both the nation and the Imperial Household to express their cordial greetings and hearty welcome to eminent foreigners."

SHAWNIGAN SCHOOL MAKING PROGRESS

Efforts Will Be Made to Establish Two-room School

Shawnigan-Lake, July 10.—The annual public meeting of the Shawnigan School district was held in the school room on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance and a lively interest taken in the proceedings. Mr. E. M. Walbank was elected chairman and filled the position to the satisfaction of all present. The trustees report read by Sydney J. Heald, the secretary of the Board, gave a very comprehensive account of the year's work.

The school has made splendid progress under the able teaching of Miss Helena Blake. The number of scholars attending averaged 35. Out of this number 7 had been prepared for the entrance examinations. Practically all the children had been advanced, which comprises a record for a rural school. A special effort is to be made to increase the attendance to forty, in order to get a second teacher, thus making Shawnigan a two-roomed school. The Women's Institute are interesting themselves in the matter. Considerable discussion took place about finances and the meeting showed their confidence in the trustees by voting a very liberal sum and also giving them power to spend whatever was necessary to fix up the old schoolhouse in the event of securing a second teacher. It was decided to accept the offer of the Cowichan Health Centre to provide inspection of the children by a qualified nurse at one dollar per year per pupil. A motion was passed recommending the appointment of Dr. J. S. Macpherson, of Cobble Hill, as Medical Inspector of the Shawnigan School.

ST. MARY'S NOW HAS ITS CHOIR

Cobble Hill, July 11.—The workers of St. Mary's Church, Cobble Hill, being fortunate enough to secure the services of a new organist have now been able to form a choir, as follows: Organist, Mrs. Makepeace; basses, Mr. Moleworth, Mr. Makepeace, Mr. Wilde; tenors, Mr. Bonner and Mr. Breton; altos, Mrs. Harman and Mrs. Bonner; sopranos, Mrs. Manley, Mr. Porter, Mr. Harman, Master C. Bonner, Master W. Bonner. It was voted by the choir that Mr. G. E. Bonner act as leader pro tem. The first practice was held on Friday evening, resulting in a larger attendance at the evening service on Sunday. Rev. F. G. Christmas officiated. The 1st Company of the Cobble Hill Girl Guides made camp on Saturday afternoon on Mt. Sheridan, field facing Mill Bay.

At 2.30 p. m. in the afternoon the Rev. F. G. Christmas held a service on the shore for the combined companies of the Cowichan and Cobble Hill Girl Guides.

A number of visitors joined and enjoyed the bright service. Mr. Christmas's very welcome gift to the Guides was a huge bag of candies. Mr. Christmas will hold another service for the Guides next Saturday and hopes to be able to persuade the St. Mary's choir to assist him.

The Cobble Hill Boy Scouts will meet at the Mill Bay School to decide on the site for the camp, and to make arrangements for the starting of a cricket team. Saturday afternoon was a busy time for the local baseball team, matches being arranged between the Quadra team, of Victoria, managed by C. Burr, and the Cobble Hill team, managed by F. T. Porter. The team from Victoria lined up: Manager, Charles Burr; 1st base, Roy Kenny; catcher, E. Lewis; short stop, Wm. Turpel; 2nd base, S. Allen; 3rd base, Charlie Goodwin; pitcher, Robt. Barley; centre field, C. Richards; left field, M. H. Barry; right field, Walter Battison. The first game, resulting in the score Cobble Hill 6, Quadra 14. Other visitors from Victoria were Burr, Ian McCullum, R. Noble, D. Barry, A. Brown, Fred Spratt, A. DeCarterier. The Cobble Hill team consisted of: Pitcher, Underwood; catchers, Simpson and Underwood; 1st base, Knickerbocker; 2nd base, E. Shearing; 3rd base, McLean; short stop, Barry; centre field, Hoy; right field, Strickland; left field, P. Jeffrey. The game was well attended with visitors from Victoria and Cobble Hill. The second game ended Cobble Hill 12, Quadra 14.

Fun at the Waxworks

After providing entertainment for nearly one hundred and twenty years, it has been rumored that Madame Tussaud's famous exhibition may go to the United States.

It was in 1802 that Madame Tussaud, niece of Christopher Columbus, the pioneer artist in wax, arrived in this country with her exhibition. Everybody who has been anybody in history has been portrayed in wax at Madame Tussaud's, each model being carefully dressed in the style of the period.

The story is recalled of a portly dame who waddled towards the payable of the exhibition many years ago wearing an exaggerated crinoline. The shuffling of her feet was accompanied by an unaccountable sound of pattering, which led to her being kept under observation. As soon as she found herself among the figures and apparently hidden from view, the woman raised her crinoline and out stepped two little boys.

They came to life!

Sometimes celebrities visiting the exhibition have been mistaken for models. Mark Twain, once went to Madame Tussaud's and stood for some time admiring a particularly clever piece of work. He was aroused by a sudden stab in his side. Turning quickly, he found himself face to face with a dumfounded matron with her parasol still pointed at him.

"Heavens! It's alive!" she exclaimed, and beat a hasty retreat. Such incidents led the late George Grosvenor to play a practical joke. At the exhibition he stood still in line with other celebrities—waxed ones. People stopped and said: "Ah, Grosvenor! Capital likeness. How excellent!" "Dear little Grosvenor! one would think he was alive!" Then the affray noted grotesquely, and slowly extended a hand. Spectators fled as though for their lives.

The famous cricketer, Dr. W. G. Grace, was fond of telling the story of an old servant whom he treated on one occasion to a trip to London.

On her return, he asked her what had pleased her most among the sights of the Metropolis.

"Oh, sir, Madame Tussaud's was beautiful," replied Susan.

"Then you must have seen me there," said her master.

"No, that I did not, sir."

"What! How did you miss me? I am there as large as life."

"Well, sir, to tell you the truth, it cost sixpence extra to go into the Chamber of Horrors."

One of the best stories told by Mr. John T. Tussaud in "The Romance of Madame Tussaud's" (Odhams) concerns Sir Squire Bancroft, Master of Sir Squire and Lady Bancroft, in the characters of Peg Woffington and Triplet in "Masks and Faces," had been added to the exhibition, which was shortly afterwards visited by a young man from the country who went straight to the Chamber of Horrors. He said he wanted to see the "Squire who murdered a triplet!"

Mr. George R. Sims, the famous author and dramatist, is included in the collection of waxen celebrities. A woman friend once asked him what his sensations were when he saw his model.

"I felt very frightened indeed," he replied, promptly. "I am sorry I ever promised to become a wax-work, for

I have been told since that if the public grow weary of your presence, or the Tussauds get offended with you, they melt you down and build up a more popular fellow out of your dripping. Nasty idea, very!"

When Dr. Jackson was Bishop of London a curate observed that he had just visited Madame Tussaud's, where, he had been told, a figure of his Grace was on view.

He regretted he could not find the figure, although he had searched for it high and low.

"Oh," said the Bishop, "haven't you heard? They melted me down for Charles Peace!"

Quebec, July 12.—Premier Taschereau of Quebec to-day said there had been no thought by the Provincial Government of an early session, and "as to provincial elections, he knew only what he had read in the newspapers. In connection with the criticisms made by Arthur Haue, Leader of the Quebec Opposition, Mr. Taschereau said anything that needed to be answered would be answered in due course.

THE MEANING OF THE CONFERENCE.

During the course of his observations in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon Mr. Lloyd George disclosed the meaning of the disarmament conference in the following sentence:

"World peace depends more upon friendly co-operation between the United States and Great Britain than any other single factor."

These sentiments are by no means brand new. Many influential public men on both sides of the Atlantic and the press of varied political shades have pronounced an earnest desire for an understanding between the two great English-speaking nations, whether that understanding be reached by an exclusive engagement between the two or by some other undertaking which would permit the Anglo-American ideal and sentiment to prevail. Hitherto international responsibilities and obligations have somewhat militated against the candor which the people of both countries were anxious to see displayed by those in authority. With President Harding's issue of an invitation for a disarmament conference the vehicle for a greater measure of international harmony has been supplied and the demand for official reserve upon one of the greatest questions of the time has been eliminated.

That Mr. Lloyd George should have seized an immediate opportunity of reflecting the pleasure and gratification with which the British people as a whole learned of the action of the President is merely in keeping with the Empire's desire for some agency which might be employed to guarantee permanent peace throughout the world. That the English-speaking nations should have found the initiative is a matter upon which they may congratulate themselves just as it will undoubtedly be cause for thankfulness on the part of the rest of the world if anything approaching the results which are expected of the conference shall be realized.

It may be too soon to suggest that the gathering which has now been made possible will cure all the militaristic aspirations of every nation at once. The world has depended upon force to settle its family disputes for so long that some of the doubters will require a little more persuasion than others before they will be prepared to forsake the shrine of the gold braid for the more sombre clad agencies of peace and common sense. But if the British Empire and the United States demonstrate to the rest of the world that their peoples are in earnest about the question of disarmament there is no alliance or combination of nations extant which would be prepared to maintain or increase their fighting equipment in the face of such an united front.

As far as the actual conference itself is concerned the people of this country and the people to the South would herald the announcement that the British Prime Minister intends to attend the gathering in person. No better augury for the success of the whole plan, no better guarantee of the final removal of such misunderstandings between the two peoples as have been allowed to grow in a subsoil of ignorance, could be imagined than the little Welshman's presence on this side of the Atlantic.

THE BOARD'S DECISION.

The mountain labored and brought forth a mouse. This is what the proceedings of the School Board yesterday evening regarding the trouble in the High School amounted to. The resolution which followed the consideration of the report of the commission of investigation instructs the Secretary of the Board to demand of the Principal that he state whether, in his opinion, it is possible to expect the correction of the defects of administration disclosed by the report next term. If Mr. Robinson's reply should attack the report of the commission as inconsistent and illogical in the relation between its findings and recommendations, besides challenging its accuracy, what then? Will the Board appoint another umpire to decide the issue between the commission of inquiry and the Principal? The findings of the commission, which the Board appears to have accepted, charge faulty administration, lack of discipline, declining morale and trouble-making by one teacher. Is the resolution passed last night calculated to remedy those conditions? It is imperative that they should be remedied, for the only outcome of their continuance must be the utter demoralization of the school, seriously affecting the welfare of its large student body, apart from other grave disabilities. Obviously, the Board has not reached the end of its problem and, sooner or later, must deal with it with more resolution than it has shown so far.

NOT UNEXPECTED.

Glances of apprehension may be turned in the direction of Belfast in view of the disturbances over the week end; but the fact remains that the responsible representatives of the Sinn Féin party in Southern Ireland have performed their part of the undertaking essential to Thursday's conference. More than that it is not possible for them to do. If, as has been reported by to-day's dispatches, the last Sinn Féin shot has been fired, so much the better. If, as is quite likely, spasmodic outbreaks should punctuate the progress of the negotiations in London there need be no additional cause for alarm. It would be a sorry day for the irreconcilables if Sinn Féin and Crown agencies were to combine in an effort to enforce the peace that is in hopeful prospect. Events of such a momentous nature are taking place almost hourly at the present time that even such a phenomenal development as that does not seem to be too extravagant.

A TRUSTEE'S STATUS.

The opinion expressed by Trustee Jay yesterday evening that Mrs. Andrews, one of the members of the School Board, had no right to act in that capacity because her husband is connected with the teaching staff, should not be regarded with indifference by the Board. Mr. Jay was Chairman of the Board for seventeen years, and is a member of the legal profession. He points out that Trustees on taking office are required to make statutory declarations that they have no interest, "directly or indirectly" in any contract or services connected with the School Board. Mrs. Andrews says she has legal advice that she was entitled to sit on the Board, but it is important that the Board should satisfy itself fully on this point. If it should develop that the tenure of office of this Trustee has been invalid what would be the effect of that condition upon all the proceedings of the Board in which she has participated?

FANTASTIC.

One of the criticisms in respect of the personnel that shall attend the forthcoming disarmament conference is particularly amusing in its suggestion that Germany, Russia and China should have been included as active participants. It seems to take no stock of the fact that Russia—whom the critic has persistently refused to endow with any political or moral status whatsoever—cannot be regarded as a factor in the question by any stretch of the imagination. If she wanted to build battleships she would have to borrow the money to do so, and she has already confessed her pitiful state of bankruptcy as the corollary of an administrative experiment which has gone woefully awry. As far as Germany is concerned the very powers which President Harding has invited are responsible for the manner in which she fulfills the requirements of the Treaty of Versailles in the matter of naval and military organizations. From a financial point of view she has quite enough to do to pay her reparations bill. To make a special case of China is quite a fantastic suggestion where armaments are concerned. Such fighting craft as she possesses were constructed either in British or American yards and for some time to come such orders as she might desire to place for arms of any description would be placed in one of these two countries. Why the criticism to which we have referred omitted the mention of a slight upon Patagonia we fail to understand.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Great Britain has experienced nearly three months without rain in temperatures which have broken all heat records of the last forty years. So did nature conspire with the forces of reason and right against the Miners' Federation.

Germany agrees that the spirit in which President Harding's invitation will be received will be a valuable index to the attitude of the different nations towards the project. Very obvious, but very true.

France is ready to discuss disarmament without reservation as long as protection is assured against eventual aggression from the East. Provision of all the requisite guarantees will be a small matter compared with the stupendous nature of the basic undertaking.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

CANADIAN LORDS
(Winnipeg Free Press)
Right Hon. James W. Lowther will not find much acceptance in Canada for his suggestion that provision might be made for representation of the Dominions in the House of Lords. Limited representation of this kind Canada has had for a long time; and there are at the moment two Canadian members of the House, the persons of Lords Atholstan and Shaugnessy; and more if we include Canadians resident in England who secured their titles over there, as for instance, Lord Beaverbrook. It was the granting of a number of hereditary titles to Canadians that brought the agitation in Canada against titles to a head and led to the declaration by the Canadian House of Commons in 1919 against the further grant of them. There is no likelihood of that resolution being repealed; and while it is on the records no Canadian Government will ignore the instruction. As titles to resident Canadians are given only on the advice of the Canadian Government the door is pretty securely bolted and banged against the passage of Canadians from Canada to the precincts of the House of Lords. Due provision was made in the Constitutional Act of 1791. It was there provided that members of the Legislative Council might be given hereditary titles which would carry with them the right of membership in the Council. Governor Simcoe may have had this in mind when, in opening the first Parliament of Upper Canada, he spoke of this body as the "express transcript and image" of the parent institutions at Westminster. No steps were ever taken, however, to give effect to this provision. Probably we owe the absence of a hereditary aristocracy to the poverty of the first two or three generations of the English Canadians; no one had enough money to live up to the dignity of a title of nobility.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1921.
(Copyright, 1921, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Astrologers read this as an unfortunate day for the Sun, Uranus and Jupiter are all in malefic aspect. It is a rule that is most stressful to all who bear heavy responsibilities, making them restless under burdens of state and financial difficulties.

This is a most unfortunate time for applying for appointments of any sort. The stars that guide political destinies, which depend on the favor of those who hold high place, warn against pushing claims to recognition.

Uranus is in a place making of bad judgment and lack of foresight, which will cause both men and women to make serious mistakes in placing valuation on themselves.

Egotism will be more than usually apparent in many persons who will seek fame and will achieve notoriety. This is not a lucky day for courtship or romance, since both girls and youths will be inclined to practice deception and to assume good qualities that they do not possess.

Uranus is in an aspect supposed to be conducive to romance and flirtation among persons of all ages. There may be many ill-advised engagements and unlucky marriages contracted after the influence of this rule have been operative.

Divorces will multiply during the coming year, when economic conditions will aggravate many unfortunate conditions. Persons whose birthdate it is should attend strictly to business and avoid all temptations to pleasure. Those who are employed should be careful.

Children born on this day may be subject to and down in life, but these subjects of Cancer should be exceedingly clever and talented.

ROYAL CITY PEOPLE TO PICNIC HERE

Special Steamer Will Bring
New Westminster Citizens

About noon on Thursday week the downtown section should be filled with New Westminster tourists, as the great picnic which used to be such a feature in pre-war years are being revived this year, and Victoria is the selected city.

The Retail Merchants' Association will be the organization promoting the gathering, and as it is an occasion where the whole town closes up, and everybody ceases work, there is no doubt that the large Royal City party will have a hearty welcome here.

A special steamer has been engaged, and is expected to leave New Westminster at 5 o'clock.

ORANGEMEN MARK
BATTLE OF BOYNE

Paraded Through Streets To-day to Stadacona Park

July 12, the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, is being celebrated to-day by the combined Orange Lodges of Victoria in a session at the Orange Hall, commencing shortly after noon, with a parade and open air meeting.

At the assembly this afternoon all lodges were represented, and the annual yearly review was taken of the Order in this community. Following the annual gathering the lodge members formed up outside the Orange Hall, and at 1:30 paraded through the city streets, headed by the band of the 16th Canadian Scottish, to Stadacona Park, where the gathering under the standards took place. A large gathering was on hand for the noon-day session, and the proportions of the parade that took place later exceeded expectations.

At Stadacona Park addresses by the officials of the combined Orange Lodges were heard, and several resolutions passed. Excellent addresses were given by the Rev. J. L. Batty, Dr. Daly, Rev. T. McConnell, A. de la O'Brien, W. C. Frank, A. F. Dimmick. An excellent programme of sports followed.

This evening a dance will be held in the main Orange Hall, when a large assembly of the members and their lady friends are being anticipated to close the proceedings of the day.

SIXTEEN FINISH
IN FINAL SCORE

Twilight Bowling Competition Ends

The Twilight competition which has been in progress during the last nine Monday evenings is completed. This contest was played by rinks of four players each, a different selection being made every Monday and the score obtained by the rink credited to the individual player.

Out of the sixty odd members who took part 16 got on the final score board in the following order:
H. W. Mills 39
G. Vallance 35
W. E. Wright 35
H. Munn 30
T. Lowe 25
J. Renfrew 25
A. Fairfull 25
A. McKeechie 25
T. Edgcombe 22
R. Dunn 19
Q. Vallance 18
J. R. Mountain 6
D. Breckonridge 6
T. McCosh 5
M. B. Lloyd 4
A. B. McNeill 2

The lesson of this contest seems to be that the greater number of games played the smaller the score is likely to become, as Messrs. H. Mills, D. H. McDougall, vice-president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, when asked to-day whether he was likely to become, as Messrs. H. Mills, G. Lockwood, W. E. Wright, H. Munn and T. Lowe only played in five games, while all the others mentioned contested 6, 7, 8 or 9 games each.

TRUSTEES LEAVE
TROUBLE AT HIGH SCHOOL UNSETTLED

Jay Asserts Mrs. Andrews, Teacher's Wife, Has No Right on Board

SAYS MR. ANDREWS
CENSURED IN REPORT

Mrs. Andrews Warmly Defends Her Husband; Principal to Report

After Trustee George Jay had declared that Trustee Mrs. Andrews had no right to sit on the Board because her husband, Frank Andrews, was a High School teacher and was, moreover, seriously criticized in the report of the High School investigation, and after Mrs. Andrews had warmly defended her husband, the City School Board last night decided to take no definite steps towards reforming the Victoria High School.

The High School crisis remained unsettled and will continue so until the Board can get a letter from Principal Dr. Alexander Robinson stating whether he can guarantee to effect a "decided change" in the administration of the High School and eliminate the faults of his administration charged in the past. The Board deferred for one month, or until a new Municipal Inspector is appointed, action on the recommendations of the special investigators who recently conducted a probe at the High School that reports on the school be secured from the Provincial Inspector of Schools, the Municipal Inspector and the Principal of the School. A recommendation that a vice-principal be appointed also was tabled for a month.

As the investigators' report did not mention the name of the teacher who had caused trouble at the school by discussing other teachers with pupils, the Board decided to notify all teachers that criticisms of each other's work before pupils is a breach of professional etiquette and is forbidden.

Says Unnamed Teacher Is Mr. Andrews.

This is the substance of the Board's decision last night, but the chief points of interest at the two-and-a-half-hour meeting were as follows:
(1) Assertion by Trustee Jay that Mrs. Andrews had no legal right to sit on the School Board because she was a teacher's wife, and that it was her husband, Frank Andrews, to whom the special investigators had referred in their statement that one member of the staff had stirred up trouble by discussing other teachers with students.

(2) Reply by Mrs. Andrews that she was acting legally in retaining her seat on the Board, and that she had no apology to make for her husband, who had performed his duties faithfully.

(3) Formal demand by Mrs. Andrews that the name of her husband should not be published in connection with the High School probe.

(4) Admission by Trustee Beckwith that the Board had committed a serious blunder in dispensing with the services of a Municipal Inspector during the High School trouble.

Trustee Jay repeated:

The resolution passed by Trustee J. L. Beckwith and finally passed by the Board, summed up in brief the recommendations of the investigators and proceeded: "The report of the investigation into the High School was a serious blow to the reputation of the school, and it is the duty of the Board to take steps to restore its honor. The Board has decided to take the following steps: (1) To appoint a Municipal Inspector to investigate the High School. (2) To appoint a vice-principal to the High School. (3) To appoint a new Municipal Inspector to the High School. (4) To appoint a new Municipal Inspector to the High School. (5) To appoint a new Municipal Inspector to the High School. Have Been Preserving Large Quantities of StrawberriesAs a result of the enthusiastic manner in which the women of Victoria seized their opportunity, strawberry jam and bottled fruits will be more in vogue this winter than for years past, the amount so far put up by the ladies from berries sold direct from the growers to consumers by the Saanich Association, totalling a weight far greater than for instance, the great bronze statue of Queen
Victoria on the Parliament grounds.
On ordinary preserving recipes the 1,000 baskets of fruit sold direct would result in seventeen tons of preserves, while the statue weighs thirteen tons.
It is believed that the amount of fruit sold by the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association was less than half of the total absorbed by the Victoria housewives this year. An equal package of loganberries is anticipated during the next two or three weeks, the luscious acid fruit having come into strong favor with Victorians.FOR CHILDREN

STORY FOR
T-O-N-I-G-H-T*THE VEILED PRINCESS Part II.
"That is better than weeping," said the funny little creature. "Keep on laughing; I do not mind. But tell me your troubles. I may be able to do more than amuse you, perhaps I can make you happy also."
"No, that you cannot do," said the Princess, as she dried her eyes under her veil; "but who are you and how does it happen you are in my garden?"
"Oh," exclaimed the little creature.
"Are these your gardens? Then you must be the Veiled Princess about whom I have heard the gardener speaking."
"I am a Goblin, a carrot Goblin, because I am the Goblin who sends the carrots through the ground every year, and your gardener is not at all careful of my charges. He does not seem to think they are worth good care."
"But first tell me your trouble, and perhaps then we may be able to help each other."
"I never show my face even to my maid who waits on me," said the Princess. "But as you belong to the people who do magic things, perhaps you can get some fairy who is a friend of yours to make me beautiful."
"I have never cared before about beauty. Only to have my skin made clear was all I wished for, but now I am in love with the Prince—I have married and I wish to be beautiful for his sake. Look!"
The Princess raised her veil and the carrot Goblin hopped closer. "Candy," he exclaimed, "Rich cake and the

GUIDES DO WELL
AT BIG RALLYSplendid Gathering at Vancouver on Saturday; Local Officers PresentVancouver, July 12.—Looking trim and smart in their navy blue uniforms, the Girl Guides presented an interesting spectacle at the provincial rally of the movement held in Hastings Park on Saturday afternoon.There were about 250 girls from Victoria, New Westminster, Burnaby and Vancouver, and the different companies went through their marches, drills and displays in splendid fashion. There was keen rivalry between the districts, during the different events and the Vancouver girls were quite elated when the Rose Patrol of the Second Vancouver Company carried off the silver cup in the ambulance display.
The girls in the patrol, Margaret Ramsay, leader; Ruby Darracott, corporal; Phyllis McGregor, Harriet Hemall, Lillie Hall and Annie Yaks, had been trained for this work by Mrs. McGregor, an overseas nurse, and went through the display in record time.On the platform with Mrs. T. F.
Lake, Girl Guides commissioner for Vancouver district, were Col. W. D.
S. Harrison, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts; Capt. Steeves,
Scoutmaster Brown, Scoutmaster
Parkinson, the two latter assisting in the arrangement of the rally; Mrs.
Tyrell Goodman, Girl Guides commissioner for Burnaby; Mrs. C. J. Miller, commissioner for New Westminster; Assistant Scoutmaster Leyland, Dr. Biledeau and Miss Fitzgibbon.I. O. D. E. Regent Present.
Many members of the I. O. D. E.
were also present on the platform.
They included Mrs. E. J. Enthoven,
Mrs. Beck, Mrs. O. L. Boynton, Miss
Gordon, Mrs. H. B. Chaffee, Mrs.
Clare Fitzgibbon and Mrs. F. J. Gavin.The opening inspection was conducted by Col. Harrison, Capt. Steeves and Miss Fitzgibbon. Short addresses of welcome and encouragement were given by Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Godman,
Mrs. Enthoven, Miss Fitzgibbon and Col. Harrison. The latter congratulated the girls and said that the boy scouts would have to look to their future. He liked the name "Guide."
He said that the girls should be a guide to the boys, and that the girls should be the mission of the boys.
Miss Fitzgibbon told of the world-wide girl guide movement, reminding that there were in all some 322,133 guides.
The assistance which Miss Fitzgibbon had given to the Vancouver companies was said since the first of the year six new companies had been organized. The aim of the movement, she stated, was the development of character. "The girls who learn to obey the guide laws," she said, "will make citizens of whom Canada will be proud."The officers of the Victoria companies were Staff-Capt. Leighton, Capt. Bailey, Capt. Unwin, Capt. Colton, Lieut. Stewart-Williams, Lieut.
E. Patrick, and Lieut. Nora Hay.
The Vancouver companies, Capt.

were quite a number, took part with great enthusiasm in several of the competitions arranged by Cubmaster T. Snatchel. The competitions included parcel tying, potato race, and in some of them they had boy scouts for competitors.The scouts present proved a valuable asset during the afternoon, materially assisting the Vancouver guide committee which is composed of Mrs.
Lake, Mrs. F. J. Milne, Mrs. D. Mc-Gregor, Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. T.
Bridgman, and Mrs. T. W. Andrew.
The judges were: Signalling, Asst.
Scoutmaster Leyland; ambulance display, Dr. Biledeau; patrol drill, Capt. Steeves; inspection, Col. Harrison; other events, Mr. Bruce Fleitcher, Mr. Starr and Mr. Davidson, who arranged and looked after the different competitions.Toward the close of the afternoon the judges congratulated the girls on their excellent showing and sports-manlike spirit.
The Miller Cup for general efficiency and appearance, judged by points, were awarded to Victoria and the Burnaby Brownies. At the completion of the programme of events supper was served by the Vancouver girls, and the remainder of the evening spent in appropriate fashion round a large bonfire.The Prize Winners.

ALTHEA

One of the most confusing names in feminine nomenclature is Althea. Extraordinary beautiful and tasteful absolutely to the aristocracy, it is constantly jostled and confused by a host of other names. Althea, he it said, is an individual. The name means wholesome and not true as is generally believed. The latter significance is generally given because it is confused with the name Alutha, sometimes known as Letty.
The real Althea, which comes from the Greek word, meaning healthy or wholesome, belated in ancient times to the unfortunate mother of Meleager.
perished as a feminine name in ancient Greece, but is now more often used to designate a genus of mallows, or rather to allude to their healing power.
It comes to us through literary channels and maintains its somewhat isolated status, never having descended to anything like common usage.Corns Will Go

Home Made Bread

Home-made bread is without doubt the cheapest and most healthful food that can be produced for human consumption. It is the most completely digested solid food in the world, over 90% of it being transformed into health and strength. It yields nearly twice as much nourishment as rice or potatoes, and is ten times as nourishing as an equal value of meat. No bread is more truly whole-some or more perfectly satisfactory than that baked at home in which Royal Yeast Cakes are used.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

It was known many years ago that yeast is an excellent thing for constipation, anemia, boils and pimples. Lately eminent scientists have been investigating the matter thoroughly and their conclusions point to the fact that the beneficial effect of yeast has not been overrated. The yeast treatment is very simple and economical—and altogether harmless.

Before each meal eat a Royal Yeast Cake, or take a cake dissolved in water or fruit juices. The scientific investigators say that the curative elements in yeast are the vitamins and nuclein which it contains. It is certainly well worth a fair trial by those who suffer from any of the ailments mentioned above.

EXIT BETTY

By Grace Livingston Hill
(Mrs. Lutz)

CHAPTER IV.

Not two miles away, Betty lay safe and warm in the flannellette nightgown, and watched Jane Carson turn out the light and open the window. A light leaped up from the street and made a friendly spot of brightness on the opposite wall, and Betty had a sense of cosiness that she had not felt since she was in boarding school with a roommate.

"Now," said Jane, climbing into bed and pulling the covers carefully lest she should let the cold in on her guest, "let's hear!—You warm enough?"

There was a curious tenderness in her voice as if she had brought home a young princess and must guard her carefully.

"Oh, perfectly!" said Betty, giving a little nervous shiver. "They were glad to be here safe away from them all!"

Oh, I've needed some one to advise with so much! I haven't had a soul since they sent my old nurse away because she dared to take my part sometimes."

Suddenly Betty buried her face in the pillow and began to sob and Jane reached out quick gentle arms and gathered her in a close comforting embrace. In a moment more Betty had gained control of herself and began to explain.

"You see," she said, catching her breath, "they were determined I should marry a man I can't endure, and when I wouldn't they tried to trick me into it anyway. I never suspected until I got into the church and looked around and couldn't see Bessemer anywhere; only the other one with his evil eyes gloating over me, and then I knew! They thought they would get me there before all that church full of people and I wouldn't dare do anything. But when I realized it, I just dropped right down in the aisle and I couldn't stand up, I was so frightened."

"But I don't understand," said Jane. "Where were the two men?"

"Oh, yes," sighed Betty, "there were two."

Well, where was the other one, the one you wanted to marry?"

"I don't know," said Betty with a half sob in her voice. "Bessemer's just what I wanted. You see they were my stepmother's two sons, and it was my father's dying wish that I should marry one of them. I didn't really want to marry Bessemer, but I simply loathed Herbert, the younger one, who was so determined to marry me. I was terribly afraid of him. He had been frightfully cruel to me when I was a child and when he grew up he was always tormenting me; and then when he tried to make love to me he was so repulsive that I couldn't bear to look at him. Oh, I couldn't—no matter who asked me."

Bessemer and I decided to get married to stop the trouble. They were always nagging him, too, and I was kind of sorry for him."

"But why should you marry anybody you didn't want to, I'd like to know!" exclaimed Jane in horror.

"This is a free country and nobody never makes people marry anybody they don't like any more. Why didn't you just beat it?"

"I thought about that a good many times," said Betty, "besides my tired eyes with her cold little fingers, but I couldn't quite bring myself to do it. In the first place, I didn't know where to go, nor what to do. They said I was a child and when he grew up he was always tormenting me; and then when he tried to make love to me he was so repulsive that I couldn't bear to look at him. Oh, I couldn't—no matter who asked me."

quickly to the bright head on the pillow.

"There! there!" she whispered tenderly, "don't take on so, I didn't mean anything. I was just trying to dope it out; get it through my head what it is in—thunder!—Say! Did he tell you he wanted you to marry those guys?"

"Who'd he request it to?"

"My stepmother."

"H'm! I thought so! How'd you know he did? How'd you know but she wasn't lying?"

"No," said Betty sorrowfully, "she wasn't lying, she showed me the paper it was written on. There couldn't be any mistake. And his name was signed to it, his dear handwriting, just as he always wrote it with the little quill to the S that wasn't like anybody else. It went through me just like a knife when I saw it, that my dear father should have asked me to do what was so very hard for me to think of. It was so much harder to have it come that way. If he had only asked me himself and we could have talked it over, perhaps he would have helped me to be strong enough to do it, but to have her have to tell me! She felt that herself. She tried to be kind, I think. She said she wanted to have him wake me up and tell me himself, but she saw his strength was going and she was anxious to have him write it down quick and let him sign it that she did as he asked."

"Well, you may depend on it he never wrote it at all—or anyhow, never knew what he was signing. Like as not she dragged it out of him some way while he was out of his mind or so near dying he didn't know what he was about. Besides, they mighta some of 'em forged his name. It's easy to copy signatures. Lots people do it real good. If I was you I wouldn't think another guy about it. If he was a man like you say he is, he couldn't do a thing like that to his own little girl, not on his life! It ain't like real mothers and mothers to, I know, but I've got a mother that's a peach and no mistake! No, you may depend on it, he never knew a thing about that, and marrying a guy like that is the last thing on earth he'd want you to do."

"You see," she said, catching her breath, "they were determined I should marry a man I can't endure, and when I wouldn't they tried to trick me into it anyway. I never suspected until I got into the church and looked around and couldn't see Bessemer anywhere; only the other one with his evil eyes gloating over me, and then I knew! "But why should you marry anybody you didn't want to, I'd like to know!" exclaimed Jane in horror.

"This is a free country and nobody never makes people marry anybody they don't like any more. Why didn't you just beat it?"

"I thought about that a good many times," said Betty, "besides my tired eyes with her cold little fingers, but I couldn't quite bring myself to do it. In the first place, I didn't know where to go, nor what to do. They said I was a child and when he grew up he was always tormenting me; and then when he tried to make love to me he was so repulsive that I couldn't bear to look at him. Oh, I couldn't—no matter who asked me."

Bessemer and I decided to get married to stop the trouble. They were always nagging him, too, and I was kind of sorry for him."

RHEUMATISM FOR OVER 16 YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-lives"

103 Church St., Montreal.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good."

Then I began to use "Fruit-a-lives," and in 15 days the pain was easier and the Rheumatism much better. Gradually, "Fruit-a-lives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this fruit medicine to all sufferers."

At the time of the big rush of bars to incorporate themselves as clubs in their effort to continue to sell liquors under the new liquor law, the Attorney-General announced that any indication of misbehavior or disobedience of the liquor laws in any way would result in the Government cancelling the clubs' charters.

LOOK FORWARD TO CONVENTION

Victoria Life Underwriters Hold Annual Meeting

The Victoria Life Underwriters' Association now has a membership of 61, and completed an active year at the annual meeting yesterday, at which William Murphy was elected to succeed Kenneth Ferguson as president.

As this was the annual meeting of the year, the election of officers for the coming year took place. Wm. Murphy, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was elected president; J. C. Wilson, manager of the Great West Life Insurance Company, as vice-president; W. J. Brick, manager of the Monarch Life, and Fred Lewin, manager of the Confederation Life, were elected to the executive; S. B. Johnston, manager of the Dominion Life, was re-elected secretary-treasurer; Kenneth Ferguson, retired president, then gave an address on the work of the association for the past year in part as follows:

"The past year in the history of the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association has been important in several respects."

Co-operating with the Vancouver association, we reported to the attention of the Provincial Government during the year the question of licensing of agents. The Government has promised to take this matter into consideration.

The lack of finances has been a handicap to the local association again this year, as in the past, and suggestions have been made that steps be taken to have reduced, if possible, the per capita tax, to the parent association.

Against Fast Time Agents. "I must report that the question of the elimination of part time agents in this locality is receiving serious consideration, and gives promise of fruitful results at an early date."

"Due entirely to the unsparing efforts of our secretary, the membership of the Victoria association has increased in the past year, which, I am sure, is a matter of pride to us all."

"Naturally the Dominion convention, which is to be held in this city on August 17, 18 and 19, has claimed a large share of our interest and attention during recent months, particularly, and I am glad to report that the 12th convention gives promise of comparing most favorably with those previously held."

"It is only fitting that I should express my sincere appreciation of the efforts of our secretary, who has consistently endeavored to justify the high honor you conferred upon me in electing me to the highest position in our organization."

"In closing I am confident that I express the feelings of every member in conveying to the Victoria Life Underwriters our sincere appreciation for the splendid service they have rendered to us and also our thanks to the management of the Dominion office, who have made it possible for us to enjoy a high standard of catering and attention at our monthly luncheons."

KATORI MARU IS NOW BOUND HERE FROM FAR EAST

N. Y. K. Liner Bringing 320 Passengers; Fushimi Maru Due Out

Sailing from Yokohama last Friday the Japanese liner Katori Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is scheduled to reach this port July 21. The Katori has a total of 320 passengers, including 60 first cabin, 18 second cabin and 157 steerage. She also carries a fair Oriental cargo for Victoria and other North Pacific ports.

When the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Fushimi Maru, Capt. R. Shimidzu, clears next Friday for the Orient, she will be fully laden with cargo, but will take out a lighter list of passengers than usual.

Among the passengers booked by the Fushimi Maru will be R. Saito, an attaché of the Japanese embassy at Washington, and his family, returning to Japan on leave. He has been stationed at Washington for the past three years. T. G. Inagaki, a Japanese manufacturer, who has been making a business tour of the United States, is another passenger, with first class reservations on the liner.

The outward list at present comprises forty-two first cabin bookings, and a good steerage list will be carried, the larger number of which will embark at Victoria.

The Fushimi Maru's freight consists largely of steel machinery, car material and lumber taken aboard at Vancouver and Seattle.

DUTCHMAN IS DUE WITH LIQUOR CARGO

Eemdijsk Was Delayed in Loading at Portland and Astoria

The Holland-American steamship Eemdijsk, Capt. J. Dekker, for which Findlay, Durham & Brodie are the local agents, is expected in port tomorrow to discharge a shipment of liquor from Europe.

The Eemdijsk was looked for here last week, but on her trip up the coast from San Francisco she put into the Columbia River for Portland and later shifted down to the town of Astoria to take on canned salmon. About 4,000 tons of cargo was shipped aboard the Holland-American freighter at Portland.

The liquor shipment on the Eemdijsk is consigned to the Provincial Liquor Board, and includes special vinegars from Scotland and Holland.

The Dutch ship also has cargo for Seattle, including 3,000 crates of glass and glassware from Belgium and a consignment of knitting machines and needles from Hamburg, Germany, also a shipment of polished tile from Rotterdam.

The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, operating to this coast in conjunction with the Holland-American line, announces that the new motor ship Somersetshire, due about July 26, will load for Havre, Antwerp, London and Hull, thus adding the French port to the service.

The Somersetshire will be followed by the steamship Kinderdijk, which vessel will load on this coast for London, Havre, Rotterdam, Hamburg and Antwerp.

GOVERNMENT SHIPS WELL SCATTERED

Tonnage Flying Canadian Flag at Many Ports of the World

The Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Ltd., announces that the steamship Canadian Prospector, en route home from Alexandria, Egypt, will put in at Trinidad to load sugar for the Vancouver refinery. The steamship Canadian Traveller, a Victoria-built ship, also from Alexandria, is returning to this coast light. Both the Prospector and Traveller carried full cargoes of railway ties from British Columbia to Egypt.

The steamship Canadian Importer will leave San Pedro July 14 for Vancouver to load for Australia. The steamship Canadian Exporter, inbound from Australia, is due in quarantine. Steamship Canadian Winner, another Victoria product, is at Adelaide, South Australia.

Steamship Canadian Highlander is due at Taku Bar with lumber from this coast. Steamship Canadian Inventor is due at Moji, Japan, for bunkers. Steamship Canadian Skirmisher, on her maiden voyage, is at Auckland, N. Z.

The steamship Canadian Farmer, third of the Pacific coastwise fleet, is in the Panama Canal zone and is expected to arrive in these waters early in August.

AMUNDSEN PLANS TO BRING CRAFT SOUTH

American Cutter Bear Sent to Assist Power Schooner Maud at Cape Serge

Seattle, July 12.—Bound to remote Cape Serge, Siberia, to rescue the disabled power schooner Maud of the Amundsen polar expedition from the great Arctic ice fields, the Coast Guard cutter Bear has sailed from Nome, Alaska. The Bear will tow the Maud to a safe harbor in Behring Sea. Capt. Roald Amundsen, world-famous Arctic and Antarctic explorer, who recently arrived here from Nome, is arranging to have the Maud towed from Behring Sea to Seattle.

The Maud smashed her propeller in the Arctic ice off the Siberian Coast last fall and since has been held prisoner in the great frozen pack. While she is schooner-rigged, she is virtually unable to resort to canvas as she has no keel. It was removed so that she would be able to manoeuvre more easily in the ice-fields.

Capt. C. S. Cochran, commander of the Bear, has reported that the ice in Behring Strait and to the north of the strait has been breaking up rapidly during the last two weeks and it is expected the Maud will soon be freed from the ice. The stranded exploration ship is well stocked with provisions, and a full crew of Siberian natives.

Captain Amundsen left the Maud May 27 and traveled by dog team to East Cape, where he was picked up by the whaler Herman of San Francisco, which carried him to Nome. From Nome he came south on the Alaska Steamship Company's Behring Sea liner Victoria.

VESSEL OFF HALIFAX ACTED MYSTERIOUSLY

S.S. Croxteth Hall Reports Ship Violating International Maritime Rules

New York, July 12.—An unknown ship, violating international maritime regulations by running without proper lights and which refused to respond to signals asking her identity, was sighted last week 750 miles south-easterly from Halifax by the British steamship Croxteth Hall, which arrived here to-day from Hull and Antwerp.

According to a report made by Captain Spencer, of the Croxteth Hall, to Sanderson & Sons, agents, the ship, apparently a small freighter, was first observed showing a stern light. The Croxteth Hall caught up with the vessel, which suddenly swerved in her course and then came right at the British vessel. The stranger passed astern, went around and came up again on the opposite side. The red and green running lights indicating the port and starboard sides of the ship were not lighted. Captain Spencer reported, and as soon as the Croxteth Hall came up the single stern light disappeared. Repeated efforts to signal the stranger by flashlight code and by wireless brought no answer. The vessel after a short time disappeared.

Agents of the line, while admitting they were puzzled at the unusual occurrence, said they did not connect it with recent unverified reports that a mystery ship with piratical intent was operating off the Atlantic Coast.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Real Estate Board.—A quarterly meeting of members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria will be held in room 313, Pemberton Building, this evening. Among other matters to be discussed will be a form of exclusive listing. This will be a most interesting and important meeting, and a full attendance is desired.

To Clean Up Schools.—Two rooms at Craigflower and one at Prospect Lake will immediately be taken over by the commencement of a programme of refurbishing of the Saanich schools. Other schools will receive attention later in the holiday season upon the initiative of the Trustees responsible for the various districts. This work was authorized last night by the School Trustees.

Saanich Teachers Signing.—While not announcing the names of the teachers who have signed contracts for the coming year, the Saanich Trustees last night had before them a number which gave them considerable satisfaction. In addition, several of the members of the staff wrote appreciatively of the manner in which the Saanich has dealt with its teachers.

Local Dentists Attend.—Some ten members of the local Dental Society crossed to Vancouver on Monday for the opening of the convention there of the British Columbia, Oregon and Washington dentists in annual session. The convention, which is one of the largest held on this coast will be in session all week. The local party was headed by Dr. Russell, President of the local society, and included Dr. Hetherington, Griffiths, McKee, Walker, Richards, Thompson, Thomas, Garesche, Henderson and others. Most of the party were in Vancouver for the opening day.

To Boast Trophy.—Craigflower School will shortly be the proud possessor of an ancient cannon, the removal of which last night authorized the removal of the school grounds of an old gun which was many years ago employed to command Portage Inlet. This valiant old cannon, which has been in place for so long a time, has been a reminder of the early days of the colony and therefore valuable.

Pleased With Progress.—The Saanich School Board last night heard that work on the new addition to Tillamook School is progressing well, the plans being now in place. Trustees Mrs. Humphries and Hull reported that the inclined ways substituted for stairways to give access between the old and new construction were being successfully completed, the grades being so easy as to provide no obstacle to rapid movement of the pupils.

South Saanich Robberies.—When reporting to the Saanich School Board that a number of tools had been stolen from the locked store at the manual training centre at the Saanich School, Secretary Cowper stated that inquiries made by the police department had revealed the existence of an epidemic of petty theft. The last equipment totalled practically a carpenter's outfit, "and a good one, too," commented Trustees Hull.

Caught at Vancouver.—C. K. Curtis, wanted by the police of this city for alleged passing of worthless cheques, was arrested as he stepped off the boat at Vancouver last night, and will be brought back to town to-day under the charge of Detective Macdonald. Curtis, the police allege, passed worthless cheques to the value of $150 on the Strathcona Hotel, purporting to have an account in the Bank of California, in Seattle. Advice from the bank in question led to his arrest. He will be arraigned in the police court on arrival.

Open Dining Room.—To offset some of the loss occasioned by the abolition of beer in the club, the Veterans of France have opened a dining room service on the second floor of the Douglas Street headquarters. These dining rooms will be open to the public, and it is hoped to make the new departure popular for business lunches and other occasions. The cuisine is under the management of Mrs. Corrance, the matron, and already the dining service is being well patronized. The addition is being regarded by the members as the probable means of continuing the work of the soldier organization.

Tourist Suggestion Pleases.—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce were yesterday afternoon informed that the Victoria and Island Development Association is considering the appointment of a direct agent at Blaine, whose task would be to induce a greater percentage of American motorists crossing into Canada to travel to Vancouver Island in their itinerary. Only the lack of a suitable man had prevented the idea from being already in operation, the directors of the Chamber were informed. The scheme met with hearty approval by the Board.

TAX COLLECTION

Beats Own Remarkable Record of Last Year

Esquimalt municipality, which last year piled up a tax collection record that stood among the municipalities in Canada, in the percentage collected of the amount levied, this year has done better and beaten its own record by several degrees. "In spite of the financial depression and the fact that ours is largely a working man's community," stated Reeve Lockley to The Times to-day "we have collected 97.90% of our general rates, 81.85% of our sewer rates, and 86.84% of our total current rates, beating our own remarkable record of last year. The collection was unexpected and is phenomenal, I think."

Northwest Meet Grows More Popular Each Year

Already next year's Pacific Northwest Golf Tournament, which will be the first held in Victoria since 1912, is the subject of a lot of talk among coast golfers. Next year the big tournament of the Northwest will be bigger and better than ever it is forecasted for each year it grows larger and more popular. There will undoubtedly be no change in splitting the field three ways, amateur championship, women's championship and a Pacific Northwest handicap event. The Fabroni Golf Club will be the host.

The amateur and women's championship will be played on the Colwood course and the handicap at Oak Bay.

The committee, known as the revision committee, consisting of C. H. Davis, Jr., Portland; J. H. Ballinger, Seattle, and Biggerstaffe Wilson, Victoria, plans to meet at Victoria the second week in August to lay

The meeting will be held at least a month earlier than that of the Waverley meeting. Probably the third or fourth week in May will be the time set. May was selected in 1912 and also in 1968, when Victoria was awarded the annual meetings. The principal reason for this is that the Empress Hotel, which will be the "club house" for the meeting will not yet have that time have its green

Summer tourist trade to handle. They will give the golfers practical monopoly of the big hotel.

COLUMBIA

Constance Binney, the charming Reelstar, who will appear at the Columbia Theatre again to-day and to-morrow in the Rachel Crothers play, "39 East," first won the applause of the public as a dancer in "Ob, Lady, Lady." She has several opportunities to dance in her new picture, as she had in "The Stolen Kiss."

The first dance that Miss Binney executes in "39 East" is a typical darky jig, done on the rug of her humble boarding house room to the accompaniment of "Dixie" whistled by herself. This is done when the heroine is supposed to be suffering from homesickness, and though it starts in a slow, forced way, it ends in a whirlwind of kicks.

The next dance is executed on the grass at Central Park to the music of an organ grinder. This time the heroine is in the ecstasies of joy and she dances with abandon; a "jazzy" wild dance. The third and last time the little heroine indulges in "the light fantastic" is on the stage of a Broadway theatre when she has on the beautiful costume of a premiere danseuse and executes some of the difficult classic steps of which Miss Binney is so capable.

Reginald Denny, a well-known New York actor, is Miss Binney's leading man. The remainder of the cast is the same as in the stage version. John S. Robertson, of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" fame, was the director.

VARIETY

Local playgoers expected great things from Priscilla Dean, who had previously been seen in such productions as "The Wildcat of Paris," "A Silk-Lined Burglar" and "Pretty Smooth"; but her performance of the beggar girl in "The Virgin of Stamboul" is an unqualified triumph. In this Universal-Jewel feature, which was written by H. H. Van Loan and directed by Tod Browning, Miss Dean is winning new admirers at the Variety Theatre.

Extra attraction, Neil Black (the Scottish comedian) is appearing all week in person singing Harry Lauder's favorite songs.

"DANAE" CONTINUES

AT ROYAL VICTORIA

Poor House Greets Greatly Enhanced Performance of Greek Drama

"Danae," the fanciful adaptation of Greek mythology, was reproduced at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night with even greater success than had attended the open air performances at the beautiful grounds at Gonzales. Mrs. L. A. Griffin Brownless, the authoress, has originally designed the work for the dramatic stage, and last night the whole performance was greatly enhanced. It was a pity that the splendid rendition did not meet with the support it deserved, only about 125 people witnessing the opening night in the theatre.

The drama is to be reproduced to night, when it is to be hoped that all who have not witnessed Danae will not miss the final opportunity.

The settings, action and spoken word all were greatly enhanced on the indoor stage, and the whole production took on a turn of finish and artistry that was under greater handicaps in the out-of-door display. The production features over 100 in the cast, and is by far the most ambitious amateur production of its type ever given in this city. The dancing and musical numbers of the action were rendered to great advantage last night.

Miss Roberta Balcom repeated her success at the premiere danseuse of "Danae," and was very ably supported by a splendid aggregation of dancing nymphs and deities. Miss Eva Hart, Mrs. Robert Baird and Mrs. Kenneth Angus were heard in several excellent vocal selections, which added greatly to the whole. The work of the cast throughout was exceptional, and the whole drama gained immensely by its production on the legitimate stage.

Some changes were noted in the cast from the previous production. In the part of Hermes, Captain Schmitt as Chief Herald; Miss Powell Bick as Ceres. Mrs. Fred Belby rendered a revised Apologue with great effect. For the effort extended, and the success of the extensive production the poor house that greeted last night's performance was nothing less than an insult. There were scarcely as many in the audience as in the past, the effect being disastrous on the morale of the artists.

Commencing to-morrow the Royal Victoria Theatre will present a double feature programme. The first will be Mildred Harris Chaplin in "The Inferior Sex" and the five-reel Max Sennett comedy, "Love, Honor and Behave."

Two leading roles have offered two of Mack Sennett's feminine principals opportunity for stellar honors in "Love, Honor and Behave." Phyllis Haver and Marie Prevost are the two leading roles. Phyllis Haver plays the role of a young bride, who has many reasons, she thinks, for the suspicious she has toward her youth and her bridegroom. The brunette beauty of Marie Prevost and the blonde loveliness of Miss Haver may not be retained by the bathing suit costume, but what has been lost in that regard more than compensated in the discovery of two authentic, gifted and talented screen players.

Special Notice!

Beginning Wednesday the play chosen to compete with the warm weather and bring a refreshing evening to our patrons has been the well known success "45 Minutes From Broadway." The witty lines, the human characters drawn so true to life, have always pleased the most critical. The singing part of the play is extremely bright.

"45 Minutes From Broadway" has always been a big box office drawing card, being played once a week by stock companies throughout the East. Everyone of the popular players will be happily cast, and a well trained chorus will add greatly to the evening's entertainment.

The patron guessing the nearest to the correct amount of words Mr. Coots had in his part in "The Stubborn Cinderella" will receive a prize of 15 Wednesday evening. Remember this is for "grocery" the little folks contest is on Saturday, and the one that guesses the content of Captain Kidd's Chest, which is in Feden Bros' window on Yates Street, will receive the prize which will be $70 this Saturday.

DOMINION

Thomas Meighan in a real crook role! That accounts for the well attended performances at the Dominion Theatre yesterday where the Paramount star is appearing in his latest vehicle, "White and Unmarried." The lead is played by Billy Hackett, known as "The Hermit" because he works alone. On one of his forages, Billy finds a picture of a girl and admires it very much. Later he inherits from his uncle, a bookmaker, half a million dollars, and starts for Europe. On the steamer he meets the girl of the photograph.

In Paris, he takes her slumming and in a Bohemian cafe, the girl becomes infatuated with Marechal, a French pickpocket. Billy finds the girl, and a little dancer of the cafe, thereby incurring the enmity of Chico, an Apache. Chico abducts Andrea and conceals her in Marechal's farmhouse. Dorothea, the girl, discovers Marechal's real character and tells Billy where Andrea is hidden after of after one of the hero rescues Andrea, but not before he has killed Chico, Marechal and another man. The death of Marechal liberates Dorothea from the distasteful marriage.

Jacqueline Logan, former Polka dancer plays Andrea, Grace Darmond is Dorothea, and others of importance are Fred Vroom, Marion Skinner, Walter Long and Lloyd Whitlock.

With the South Pole in the background, Amundsen, the last trip of Shackleton took the form not of a "dash" for the pole, but of a thorough and careful study of the fascinating region

FOR THIS WEEK

Royal Will Present "The Inferior Sex" and Five-Reel Comedy

Commencing to-morrow the Royal Victoria Theatre will present a double feature programme. The first will be Mildred Harris Chaplin in "The Inferior Sex" and the five-reel Max Sennett comedy, "Love, Honor and Behave."

Two leading roles have offered two of Mack Sennett's feminine principals opportunity for stellar honors in "Love, Honor and Behave." Phyllis Haver and Marie Prevost are the two leading roles. Phyllis Haver plays the role of a young bride, who has many reasons, she thinks, for the suspicious she has toward her youth and her bridegroom. The brunette beauty of Marie Prevost and the blonde loveliness of Miss Haver may not be retained by the bathing suit costume, but what has been lost in that regard more than compensated in the discovery of two authentic, gifted and talented screen players.

The settings, action and spoken word all were greatly enhanced on the indoor stage, and the whole production took on a turn of finish and artistry that was under greater handicaps in the out-of-door display. The production features over 100 in the cast, and is by far the most ambitious amateur production of its type ever given in this city. The dancing and musical numbers of the action were rendered to great advantage last night.

Miss Roberta Balcom repeated her success at the premiere danseuse of "Danae," and was very ably supported by a splendid aggregation of dancing nymphs and deities. Miss Eva Hart, Mrs. Robert Baird and Mrs. Kenneth Angus were heard in several excellent vocal selections, which added greatly to the whole. The work of the cast throughout was exceptional, and the whole drama gained immensely by its production on the legitimate stage.

Some changes were noted in the cast from the previous production. In the part of Hermes, Captain Schmitt as Chief Herald; Miss Powell Bick as Ceres. Mrs. Fred Belby rendered a revised Apologue with great effect. For the effort extended, and the success of the extensive production the poor house that greeted last night's performance was nothing less than an insult. There were scarcely as many in the audience as in the past, the effect being disastrous on the morale of the artists.

DOMINION

Thomas Meighan in a real crook role! That accounts for the well attended performances at the Dominion Theatre yesterday where the Paramount star is appearing in his latest vehicle, "White and Unmarried." The lead is played by Billy Hackett, known as "The Hermit" because he works alone. On one of his forages, Billy finds a picture of a girl and admires it very much. Later he inherits from his uncle, a bookmaker, half a million dollars, and starts for Europe. On the steamer he meets the girl of the photograph.

In Paris, he takes her slumming and in a Bohemian cafe, the girl becomes infatuated with Marechal, a French pickpocket. Billy finds the girl, and a little dancer of the cafe, thereby incurring the enmity of Chico, an Apache. Chico abducts Andrea and conceals her in Marechal's farmhouse. Dorothea, the girl, discovers Marechal's real character and tells Billy where Andrea is hidden after of after one of the hero rescues Andrea, but not before he has killed Chico, Marechal and another man. The death of Marechal liberates Dorothea from the distasteful marriage.

Jacqueline Logan, former Polka dancer plays Andrea, Grace Darmond is Dorothea, and others of importance are Fred Vroom, Marion Skinner, Walter Long and Lloyd Whitlock.

With the South Pole in the background, Amundsen, the last trip of Shackleton took the form not of a "dash" for the pole, but of a thorough and careful study of the fascinating region about the pole, a survey which richly rewarded the motion picture men and scientists he took along. It was concerning this trip that Shackleton has written "South," his splendid, exhaustive volume which supplements the picture. It was recently published by MacMillan.

Mr. Ernest Shackleton is a member of many scientific and geographic societies, and wears of many decorations of many lands, including the C. V. O., which he received in 1909. He is the author also of "The Heart of the Antarctic" and "The Diary of a Prospector." The third chapter of this interesting series will be shown this week.

WALTER HAMPDEN

TO APPEAR HERE

Five Shakespearian and One Modern Play in Repertoire

Walter Hampden, whose recent six weeks' engagement at the Broadway Theatre, New York, convinced the critics of the metropolitan newspapers that he now stands "definitely and indisputably at the head of all American tragedians," has planned a tour for next season, which will take him to all the principal cities of the middle west, northwest and Pacific Coast. The meteoric rise of this young actor has been accomplished near the Atlantic seaboard. He has been "a star seen in the east," as it were, and he has decided that between next October and June he will play mostly in cities where he never yet has appeared at head of his own company.

Opening in Montreal early in October, Mr. Hampden will spend a week at the Grand Theatre, New York State, going then straight to Richmond, Norfolk, Raleigh, Charleston, Jacksonville, Atlanta, Birmingham and Memphis, Nashville, Louisville, St. Louis, several of the larger one night stands in Illinois, Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha. Then in succession he will visit the cities of Portland, Oregon, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, the important smaller cities in California and San Francisco.

During this tour Mr. Hampden will play "The Merchant of Venice," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "The Servant in the House." He will also have in preparation "The Merchant of Venice," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "The Servant in the House." He will also have in preparation "The Merchant of Venice," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "The Servant in the House."

Mr. Hampden will be supported by a company whose leading members have been with him during the last two seasons, these including Mary Mabel Moore, Elsie, William Kearns, J. Harry Irvine, William Sauter, Ernest Rowan, Allen Thomas, Le Roi Opert and Hannan Clark.

Sailor Tom Wilson, whose name is a familiar one to boxing fans of a few years ago, engaged in a real fight with William Duncan, who is a scene in the Vitagraph star's new feature production, "Where Men Are Men." Wilson at one time was a prize fighter and a champion for the renowned Bob Fitzsimmons when the lanky freckled one was heavy-weight champion of the world. Duncan was a professional athlete before he became a motion picture star, and as a genuine fighter, with no protection of the hero, is the only one of the Vitagraph stars who ever consented to his productions, the fight scene in "Where Men Are Men" was decidedly interesting while it lasted. Nearly every department in Vitagraph's California studio took part in the battle, which progressed for nearly half an hour. Next day physicians discovered that one of Duncan's blows had fractured one of Wilson's ribs. Duncan takes a real pride in the way he can handle his fist, and rather enjoyed the set with a man of the calibre of Wilson, who could extend his skill to the limit.

Alice Joyce has two well-known leading men in her new Vitagraph production, "The Inner Chamber," based on a novel by Charles Edward Doble. They are Holmes E. Herbert, who played opposite Miss Joyce in several of her Vitagraph productions, and Pedro de Cordoba, who has long enjoyed a wide reputation.

The spoken stage and who but recently became associated with motion pictures. The remainder of the cast is equally notable, including Eugene Pallette, as Jane Jennings, Mrs. DeWolf Hopper, Ida Waterman, Josephine Whittell, Grace Barton and John Webb Dillon. The picture has been completed at Vitagraph's Brooklyn studios and is now being edited.

COLLEY PARTY BACK; GOT RICH OIL LAND AT FORT NORMAN

First Prospectors Out Tell of Great Prospects of Canadian Field

Howard Colley and members of his oil-taking party who made his record dash overland, through the Yukon by dog team, and were first to reach the Fort Norman oil fields, returned to Victoria last night. Other members of the party are Dave McDonald, Charles McDonald and Walter Murphy. They are at the Dominion Hotel reporting to their syndicate. In a few days they will leave for Edmonton to record their findings.

The Colley party, composed of old Yukoners, got four 640 acre claims on the right of the Mackenzie River, two and one-half miles from the Imperial Oil Company's well, four 1,280-acre claims on the left limit, twelve miles West of the well, and four 640-acre claims 15 miles East of the well on the right limit. At least 1,500 barrels a day is what the Imperial Oil's well at Fort Norman can deliver, Mr. Colley said. They said so certain is Fort Norman to be one of the big oil fields of the continent that Mr. Hudson's Bay Company is to start drilling there this summer on some of its lands.

Oil Burst Surprises.
While the gangs were drilling, they laid off work one Saturday night for over a Sunday. The beauty of the idea that they were near oil. On Sunday, the oil suddenly burst through, and shot up in a gusher of such force that it wrecked the house. Surprised this way, the crew had no time to ready. They managed to choke it for a while, but before the plug could be completed she blew again. The oil outpouring was finally stopped by a large wooden stopper.

The oil that has been coming out so far has been very light, Mr. Colley said. At 58 degree below zero it was as thin as coal oil, and when drained through a moosehide would run a gasoline engine.

Shale Cliffs Afire.
Oil under the surface of the ground seems to be so plentiful that it is oozing out of the ground in three places near the Colley claims.

The party saw the famous burning oil chales of the Mackenzie River which have been glowing like an immense furnace since the time Mackenzie first wrote about them. One place the whole river cliff was like a glowing coal. Indians think it a supernatural manifestation. It is thought that the shales there were so highly charged with oil that there was spontaneous combustion. The supply of oil to keep this mass glowing decade after decade seems never to become exhausted.

It took the party two weeks to stake their claims. Lines had to be cut through willow thickets and at one place it took thirty-four hours to cut through one and one-quarter miles. Some stamperers had not been bothering about cutting lines, but it is thought they will get into trouble as claims not so marked will overtop.

Meet Summer Rush.
The Victoria party left Victoria on January 9 after the first reports of Fort Norman oil began to come through. On their way out making their stakings they met the van of the Summer rush going in. Mounted police are regulating travel and seeing that all have proper supplies so that there will be no bones left along the trail.

Colley and his men went by Whitehorse and completed their outfitting at the mouth of the River. The last trading post. Their journey was delayed by fierce storms at the head of Ross River and at the head of Gravel River. On 300 miles of the journey same was so scarce that three dogs died and three more had to be traded off. During the last few days the men had to carry their supplies on their own backs and on the backs of a few of the strong dogs.

The trip out was made mostly on water, by canoe, raft, launch and steamer. They covered 4,800 miles.

Taking Film Pictures in a Volcano

Woman's Startling Adventure Amid Roaring Sea of Fire.

"My life has been one big adventure. I have climbed the Rockies and spent hours on the brim of a volcanic mountain in the Hawaiian Islands."

These are but two of the thrilling episodes in the interesting career of Mildred Leo Clemens.

Although comparatively young, Miss Clemens has explored the far-off Hawaiian Islands, and is a recognized authority on its interesting people. She has roamed up and down Australia, explored the United States and made some wonderful ascents of the Rockies in Northern Canada.

One of the most thrilling journeys in the course of her explorations was that made by Miss Clemens into the Kau Desert, one of the volcanic centres of the Hawaiian Islands. Here the lava flows down the mountain side at an elevation of 4,000 feet, creating all around a kind of black area. Part of the journey was made in a motor car. Then the daring explorer walked about four miles into "the silent desert."

On the Brink
"I had no guide," explained Miss Clemens, "and being bent on getting exclusive pictures of the volcanic country for cinema purposes, I resolved that nothing should stand in the way. That the danger was great I was fully aware. That my daring might mean death I had fully contemplated in my mind. But now that I was in the danger zone there must be no turning back."

"Suddenly I heard a hissing sound, and, listening intently, I concluded that it was coming from a little hill not far off. At this point, curiously enough, there was a wealth of vegetation, and as I started to climb nearer I observed lava flowing down the slopes among the trees. Choosing a part of the hill free of the burning liquid, my companion and I scrambled up the slope. On reaching ing the cone we were compelled to beat a hasty retreat, so intense was the heat.

"When you are out exploring," added Miss Clemens, "you must not be worried about difficulties or dangers, so we resolved to make another effort. On this occasion, we were more successful. My friend, who was a skilled photographer, got well up to the brim of the crater—1 followed, and on reaching the cup was agreeably surprised to see some distance down a kind of ledge, which must have been about a mile in circumference. Having tested the solidity of the ledge, I resolved to lower the photographer down."

KIWANIAN HEAR OF HOSPITAL PLANS

Dr. Poyntz Tells of Modern Science in Hospital Structure

During the course of a report on the Royal Jubilee Hospital fund, which is being fostered by the Kiwanis Club, President Mark Graham told the members to-day that the actual work of excavating for the new building was now under way, the first ground being broken last week.

The club was congratulated by Dr. Poyntz, in the course of a report on hospital construction in the East, the speaker having just returned from a special mission for the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital to which the Kiwanis Club had contributed.

Dr. Poyntz, stating that he would keep all details for the building committee of the hospital project, delivered an interesting address to the gathering in which he outlined the progress made in modern and scientific construction of hospitals in the Eastern States and Canada.

Individual Buildings.

Hospitals were not as houses, to be put up on the plans of every architect, he declared. Hospitals had very special needs and requirements that made even the best of architects somewhat at a loss to understand or anticipate their special needs. In the east three leading specialists in hospital construction, all of whom had been for many years superintendents in hospitals of their own, were called into consultation by architects designing plans for hospitals, and in conjunction the specialist told of the requirements after consulting with the local doctors and being in touch with the particular situation, while the architect merely translated the ideas of the consultant into terms of plans and building specifications.

Change in Ward Fashions.

The tendency in modern hospitals to-day, stated the speaker, was to build them in stories, it being cheaper to build high, and to run buildings so constructed, rather than the single floor rambling kind of structure that was held to be the best at one time. Instead of large wards, small wards and a plentiful series of private rooms are being incorporated into new buildings. The small ward was easily renovated without serious affecting the bed accommodation, and the private rooms were always in great demand. Through a system of accurate diagnosis, the normal stay in hospital was being enormously reduced, so that the illness of average people cost less, and took less of their time, he said. This was accomplished by adequate attention to X-ray and pathological branches, with every provision for up-to-date equipment along these lines. Another improvement was an anaesthetic room on each floor for the use of operation cases, where patients operated upon might recover without being a depressing factor to the ward inmates. The same held true of what was termed "dying rooms," where those in the last stages of life might be care for, and yet that their final moments would not be a source of worry to other patients. A multitude of other details was to hand, stated the speaker, which he would take up with the committee. In conclusion Dr. Poyntz thanked the Kiwanians for their contribution to his trip, and stated that the public of Victoria owed a very real appreciation to the members of the club for their support of the hospital movement here. It was a welcome sight to return and see the excavations for the new building already under way, concluded the speaker.

Other Matters.

The attendance prize to-day, a half ton of coal was won by Kiwanian Tibbets, who put the same up for auction. The prize went to Kiwanian Keen for a generous prize after much spirited bidding in aid of the hospital fund.

Kiwanian Arthur Brindley, heading the entertainment committee, had provided an excellent series of amusements in which Mr. and Mrs. Billy Marshall, with Ernie Impett, reduced the session to spontaneous applause with some clever and comical vocal selection, including "Finnigan's Ball," and "In These Hard Times." Mrs. Marshall acted as accompanist, while Mr. Marshall, with Mr. Impett, gave a clever skit on the "Psychic Mystery," a professor of mental equipment was startingly capable in deducing the obvious with a readiness that was attended with much hilarity.

To-morrow's Picnic.

Kiwanian Harry Stuart, for the transportation section of the picnic to Deep Cove to-morrow, announced that there would be accommodation for all. Self-contained parties should proceed direct to Deep Bay, while cars taking other passengers than their own family should be at the Dominion Hotel at 1.45 to take on their allotment. When all were asked to turn out and support the team.

Kiwanian Darrell Spence stated that the Kiwanis Club had challenged the Gyro Club to a baseball game at the Stadium to take place on Thursday next, commencing at 6.15, when all were asked to turn out and support the team.

JERSEY COWS COMING FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Two Carloads on Way From Quebec to Raise B. C. Breed

An interested and appreciative audience filled the Board Room of Belmont House last evening when the newly organized Anti-vivisection Society held its quarterly meeting of members.

The chairman, P. H. Borradaile, remarked on the encouraging growth of the Society since its inception three months ago. The membership is steadily increasing, letters of appreciation and subscriptions having been received not only from British Columbia, but from Eastern Canada, England and America. As a result of this Society's efforts, correspondence has been carried on with interested persons in Toronto and the chairman was able to announce that a second carload of Jersey cows had been organized in that city.

It was announced that Dr. Walter Hadwen, President of the British Union for Abolition of Vivisection, who has been lecturing throughout the United States, has been unable to lecture in Victoria, as it was hoped he would do, on account of being hastily summoned back to Washington, D. C. So many requests to lecture in America have been showered upon Dr. Hadwen that it is likely he may return next year to fulfill these requests.

It was decided to issue a monthly bulletin to members for the purpose of keeping them in touch with the Society's progress. The Government fee was placed at $1 with full powers, sustaining members $10 annually. Life members $25. Several prominent persons have notified the secretary of their pleasure in being nominated as honorary members of the Anti-vivisection Society.

Alderman E. S. Woodward, unable to speak at Monday's meeting, as had been expected, but other speakers who gave very instructive talks on the subject of vivisection included Mrs. J. H. Woodward, William Stevenson, W. Griffiths, Mne. Vivinet and Miss Dora Killo.

The next meeting will be held in October for members.

Harvey is New Housing Head

The additional $30,000 which the city received as a result of the resignation of Alderman Sangster, Alderman Harvey declared to-day. His work has been above question and his efforts have required more time and labor than anyone who is not associated with him could realize. The idea that he was allowing party politics to influence him is a ridiculous statement, he said. Comment. The politics of applicants for housing loans was never considered. We made all loans on the merits of the applications.

Hints Caused Wrong Impressions. "I didn't mind so much Alderman Aitken's remarks about party politics as I did the questions which were aroused in people's minds," Alderman Sangster explained to-day. "Alderman Aitken says he was only joking when he asked if party applicants for loans belonged, but the next day a lot of people asked me on the street about it. They said that now they understood why certain people did not get housing loans because they did not belong to the right party. My friends, of course, know that party politics has never had anything to do with my work on the Council, but to the public it may appear as if something were wrong. I don't care to have ideas like that circulating, so I have just quit."

Out of curiosity the Housing Committee to-day looked over former housing applications. The members said they saw plainly that all loans had been granted on the merits of the applications, and outside influences such as party politics did not have anything to do with the Housing Committee's work last year.

Alderman Sangster explained this morning that contrary to recent charges, no loans had been extended to men who did not own their own land.

Had Excitement, But No Fire.—It became so hot in the Parliament Buildings last yesterday that the automatic fire alarm system went off and civil servants had life around them alarmed by the appearance of the apparatus from fire headquarters, the police patrol and firemen, and policemen searching the buildings for signs of a flame.

Examine Flood Damage.—City Engineer F. M. Preston, accompanied by the independent engineer appointed by the City Council to go into the matter, will visit Elk Lake this afternoon and investigate alleged damage which Councillor E. G. Kingwell claimed was done to his farm by water from the city's watershed area recently.

G.W.V.A. House Warning.—The G. W. V. A. will hold a "house warming" at the new quarters in the Law Chambers on Monday, July 18, at 8 o'clock. All arrangements are being made by the members. It will be permitted to take any part in organizing the function or perform any duties on the evening. "Men only" is the slogan. The members of the Women's Auxiliary who have always been indefatigable in arranging social events for the men will attend as honored guests. The rooms will be transformed into fairy gardens by the energetic and decorating committee who are securing the choicest blooms for this purpose. A big rally of the members and wives of the Victoria branch is expected to meet the ladies of the Auxiliary.

DR. HADWEN WILL BE UNABLE TO SPEAK HERE

First Morning Session of Anglican Summer School

"Social Service is applied religion, Christianity in action," said Canon Vernon in the course of his first address on "The Social Task of the Church," at the Anglican Summer School this morning. The Lambeth Conference of Bishops has put social service "on the map" for the Anglican Church, according to Canon Vernon, who stated that the published opinions of that body on the subject were among the greatest accomplishments of a momentous gathering.

"We are living in a day of crisis which is a challenge to all professing Christians," he said. "There is a double aspect to Social Service effort. Two doors are open to its ministry—the world of industry and the individual in distress. Not the church for the church's sake, but for the community's sake, should be the aim. The church's work through the Sunday School is both protective and ambulance work. It is like the fence at the top of the cliff and the ambulance at the bottom."

Lecturer, "Is Christian Life," urged the Union Convention has been under consideration the civic authorities and city officials have been trying to find out what a Victoria delegate could do up at the Victoria meeting. So far, the city is unable to be considered by the Municipal Council. The matter probably will be decided definitely at the next meeting of the Council.

India's Problems. In addition to Canon Vernon's lecture on social service, Rev. D. M. Rose spoke on the social and religious problems in his introductory address on the missionary opportunities of the Christian Church, and announced that he was personally acquainted with work in that empire. He would prefer to confine his lectures to a survey of India's economic, social and religious problems.

Dr. Craig on "The Church and the World," at the opening devotional half-hour, in which the eloquent preacher pointed out that the Church was not to be a mere social club, but a world. His vision of life embraced the whole world. Yet there will be continuous conflict between the spirit of the world and the spirit of the Church, he said.

Evening's Programme. To-night, Rev. William Simpson will begin his course of lectures on "Sunday School Work, and at 8.30 P. M. Govan will deliver the second lecture on "St. Paul's Full Doctrine of the Cross," as given in the Letter to the Colossians.

NEW RIVER AND PASS FOUND BY OIL MEN

Colley's Party Makes Discovery as Well as Getting Rich Oil Lands

There is now a new pass across the Rocky Mountains and a new river in Northern Canada. The two were discovered by Howard Colley's oil exploration party which is in Victoria to-day after having made the 4,000-mile trip from Whitehorse by canoe and back since January last. They staked more than 10,000 acres of the richest oil lands around the Imperial Oil Company's gusher at Fort Norman.

After leaving Whitehorse on January 22, they followed the little Salmon River, crossed the divide into the south fork of the McMillan, followed it to its source in the Rockies and came out following the river, a tributary of the Mackenzie, to the new pass. This river they called the McMurphy. It flows into the Mackenzie only a few miles from Fort Norman.

Other members of the Colley oil exploring party who are here now are: Walter Murphy, David McKee and Charles Macdonald.

CITY DECIDES TO SEND NO DELEGATE TO UNION MEETING

Todd Unable to Go East, City Will Not Be Represented

Alderman A. E. Todd being unable to go East to attend the civic authorities have decided not to send a delegate to the annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities in Ottawa late this month. It was learned at the City Hall to-day.

"It is a job for the head of the Legislative Committee, of which Alderman Todd is chairman, and as he is unable to go to Ottawa, I don't think the Council will send anyone," Mayor Porter stated this morning.

Other aldermen agreed that if Alderman Todd could not attend the convention there was no sending anyone. Alderman Andrews had been mentioned as a possible delegate but he told his colleagues to-day that he did not want to risk a stroke in Ottawa at this time of the year. "I never had any wish to make the trip," he declared.

Since the appointment of a delegate to the Union Convention has been under consideration the civic authorities and city officials have been trying to find out what a Victoria delegate could do up at the Victoria meeting. So far, the city is unable to be considered by the Municipal Council. The matter probably will be decided definitely at the next meeting of the Council.

New River and Pass Found by Oil Men

There is now a new pass across the Rocky Mountains and a new river in Northern Canada. The two were discovered by Howard Colley's oil exploration party which is in Victoria to-day after having made the 4,000-mile trip from Whitehorse by canoe and back since January last. They staked more than 10,000 acres of the richest oil lands around the Imperial Oil Company's gusher at Fort Norman.

After leaving Whitehorse on January 22, they followed the little Salmon River, crossed the divide into the south fork of the McMillan, followed it to its source in the Rockies and came out following the river, a tributary of the Mackenzie, to the new pass. This river they called the McMurphy. It flows into the Mackenzie only a few miles from Fort Norman.

Other members of the Colley oil exploring party who are here now are: Walter Murphy, David McKee and Charles Macdonald.

C.P.R. EARNINGS SHOW INCREASE

Both Gross and Net in May Better Than in April

Montreal, July 12.—The earnings reports of the Canadian Pacific Railway for May and for the first five months of the year come at an interesting period, following the decline in the company's securities on the New York market which has caused some anxiety among shareholders and rumors that the dividend might be cut.

The May statement shows an increase in both gross and net, the latter being decidedly substantial over the preceding month, and although gross is down from May the preceding year when the largest earnings for that month in any year were recorded, net showed a gain.

Earnings for the month amounted to $13,892,044, against $16,459,986 the preceding year. Operating expenses declined by $2,663,950, against a decline in gross of $2,567,941, so that net earnings for the month at $11,228,094 showed an increase of $95,609.

Following are the earnings of the month in detail with changes from a year ago.

	1921	1920	Dec.
Gross	$13,892,044	$16,459,986	$2,567,941
Exp.	$2,663,950	$3,262,043	$2,663,950
Net	$11,228,094	$13,197,942	$995,609

Up to date the company's year is turning out better than the preceding one. Although gross receipts are lower, net shows a substantial gain. For the five months ending with May, receipts were $69,594,928, a decrease of $5,952,953. On the other hand expenses so far this year are $7,031,022 lower, leaving net at $62,563,906, showing an increase of $1,048,039 over May, 1920.

Following are the gross and net for the five months with changes from the preceding year:

	1921	1920	Dec.
Gross	$69,594,928	$75,577,011	$5,982,083
Exp.	$6,952,953	$6,779,643	$7,031,022
Net	$62,563,906	$68,797,368	$1,048,039

Looking back over the year, the earnings in May showed a slight increase over April, fell short of March, were above February, and fell below January and every month of the preceding year, except February. In 1920 the company's gross increased gradually up to October, and fell away slightly in November and December.

Net earnings are the best any month this year, and exceeded net during every month of the preceding year except in September, October and November, but in those months gross earnings were over the twenty million mark, against net last month of thirteen millions. The contrast is very much in favor of this year. The net earnings for last month were two to three times what they were in several months last year.

Following are the earnings back each month to the beginning of

1920:	Gross	Net
April	$13,761,840	$2,646,121

Winnipeg, July 12.—Local wheat prices to-day were on the upgrade in line with Chicago and despite conflicting opinions here as to the prospects for the Canadian Northwest, the market showed a stubborn undertone and was buoyant throughout the session. July advanced steadily, reaching a high of 134½, at which figure it closed with a gain of 4½.

October topped at 145½ and closed at an advance of 5½ cents from yesterday's figure. The coarse grains were firm. Oats closed 1 to 1½ cents higher; barley 2 to 2½ cents higher; flax 5½ cents higher, and rye 4 to 5 cents higher.

Premiums advanced on cash wheat market with a much better demand from domestic millers, the local market being quiet. The offerings continue very light. There was a good demand for cash oats, with some export and domestic trade reported. Spreads were unchanged. Other coarse grains continue quiet.

TEACHERS GIVEN RELEASE THOUGH TRUSTEES DISPLEASED

Three Members of Saanich Staff Resign Irregularly.

"You have broken off relations with the Teachers' Federation," said Chairman Holloway, of the Saanich School Board, last night, when explaining his opposition to notifying the Federation of protest against certain teachers' resignations.

Miss Elsie Creedon, who has accepted a post with Oak Bay, Miss Nellie Dill and Miss Hadow, who have found posts in Victoria, are the teachers in question, and while the Board accepted their resignations with regret rather than "drive unwilling horses," it was felt that, by resigning five weeks after the time provided by the school law, they had not acted with consideration for Saanich.

The Board decided to notify the Oak Bay and Victoria Boards as to their opinion, maintaining that the course of the teachers was not in accordance with the opinions expressed at Duncan recently by the convention of Island Trustees, that no teacher should be employed unless already possessing a proper discharge from the last post held.

Excuse Rasps Feelings.

The Board was particularly irritated by a rider to Miss Creedon's resignation which asserted her course to be due to undermining of her health by the insanitary condition of Cedar Hill School.

Chairman Holloway denied such conditions prevailed, and when Trustee Mrs. Humphries recalled certain structures regarding the school in a recent Government report, the chairman retorted that, except for an excess of shadiness from the surrounding trees, there was nothing to be complained of about the Cedar Hill School.

MANY TEACHERS SEEK POSITIONS

Saanich Trustees Have Some Difficulty in Making Selections

After Trustee Thorne and Chairman Holloway had told the Saanich School Board last evening of many interviews with teachers seeking support, there being 36 applications, the Trustees agreed that the list should be gone through and reduced to one-half its length and the remainder requested to meet the Board at a special session to be held at Tolmie School on Friday afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

Experienced teachers, those residing in Saanich and men were given a preference in the compilation of the list of nineteen to be interviewed.

Among the names were those of Trustee Mrs. Coady-Johnson, of Victoria, and Miss Marjorie Watson, a daughter of Reeve Watson.

Mrs. Coady-Johnson's name was not included among those to meet the Board. Chairman Holloway suggested "perhaps she would make a good superintendent," when Trustee Mrs. Humphries retorted "I don't know much about her, but she is very conscientious."

Suggests Forethought.

Trustee Thorne suggested difficulties regarding salaries to be offered, whether the present staff would be changed around, and argued the Board should decide as to its course before meeting the applicants.

Chairman Holloway recommended that the course would be to follow the recommendation of the Trustees accepted.

ECZEMA IN RASH CUTICURA HEALS

Very Itchy and Burned. Troubled Six Weeks.

"Our daughter's face came out in a rash that we were told was eczema. Her cheeks got sore and she rubbed and scratched. The itching was very bad and she was very itchy and burned so that I had to tie the gloves on her hands to keep her from scratching. This trouble lasted about six weeks before I used Cuticura. I used one large box of Cuticura Ointment with two boxes of Cuticura Soap when she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. H. Sures, Blenheim Rd., Oak, Ont.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets are ideal for daily toilet use. Sold 25c, Ointment 25c and 50c. Sold throughout the Dominion, Canadian Dispensary, Limited, St. Paul St., Montreal.

Cuticura Soap shaves without soap.

SEEK TO RENEW HIGH SCHOOL FEE DEAL WITH CITY

Saanich Now Able to Contribute Directly to City School Costs

"In view of the changes made in the School Act at the last session of the Legislature, affecting payments to be made for High School tuition, this Board invites the Victoria School Board to arrange for a conference."

The above resolution was adopted unanimously by the Saanich School Board last night, after it had been noted that the new legislation turned over to the city school authorities any revenues for high school services accruing from outside municipalities. It was explained that while the Victoria Board has hitherto had the authority to set the charges, and has done so on a basis of cost per pupil, the fees contributed by Saanich went into the general funds of the city and in no wise aided the City School Board in financing its system.

Interested Observers.

Earlier in the evening Chairman Holloway had called to the attention of the Trustees the published report of the Victoria High School enquiry. "I have been very interested in this, I hope you all have, as this is a very important matter to Saanich," he remarked.

Set Limit To Fee.

Being informed that the Oak Bay School Board was considering charging Saanich $150 for each pupil attending High School, the Saanich Trustees last night went on record as refusing to pay any sum in excess of what may be paid to Victoria for a like High School service. It was pointed out that it was only for the convenience of individuals that Saanich allowed High School pupils to attend the Oak Bay institution, and the Board agreed that, if the Oak Bay Board insisted on any such fee as $150 yearly, the excess over dues paid by Saanich for pupils attending the Victoria High School would have to be collected from the individual parents receiving the service.

SAANICH VALUES RESIGNING TEACHERS

J. K. Keenan and J. E. Sanders Eulogized; Board Considers Supervision

"Saanich has not to have a municipal schools inspector next year," said Trustee Thorne last night, when the Saanich School Board was discussing the resignation of a number of male members of the staff.

Chairman Holloway had regretted the loss of Messrs. J. K. Keenan and J. E. Sanders, stating that he had hoped to see a substantial promotion given such valuable young men. "They had shown every intention of making teaching their life work, and appeared determined to make a success of it. It is the loss of Saanich that they have submitted their resignations, to take more advantageous offers from Vancouver and Esquimalt," he said.

Trustee Hall declared that higher emoluments for male teachers would have been infringing on the Board's policy of equality in treatment of teachers, but had agreed that young women had difficulty in controlling boys and girls in the senior grades.

Chairman Holloway then declared that the Board was unable to keep an adequate control of schools under present conditions, when Trustee Thorne made his summary as to the need of an inspector. Chairman Holloway foresaw the need of at least an additional $5,000 next year if such an addition is made to the staff.

Refuse to Believe.

Chairman Holloway having informed the Board that he had reliable information to the effect that Schools Inspector W. H. May, had acted as go-between in securing new positions for resigning Saanich teachers, the Board felt the matter should be investigated, but refused to go on record as disapproving of such action until verified.

Chairman Holloway was, however, instructed to inquire personally of Inspector May as to the facts, and lay any statement secured before the next meeting of the Board.

ATHLETICS AND BUSINESS ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Men With Imperial Life Party Have Wide Interests

Men who take an active part in the business and athletic life of their communities are included in the Quarter Million Dollar Club of the Imperial Life Assurance Company, whose members arrived in the city yesterday, the intention being to devote a week to the beauties of Vancouver Island, and indulging in fishing, motoring, swimming, golf and bowling.

For a small convention, selected without any reference to athletic achievement, the delegates bring to Victoria experts in more varied sports than has possibly ever been the case before, in so small a company.

Some Prominent Members.

They are in the majority of cases men who have taken an active share in the work of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in their various districts.

George H. Hunt, the Superintendent of Agencies of the Imperial Life Co., has been secretary of the Canadian "Life Underwriters' Association."

tion, which is the association preparing to visit Victoria next month in large numbers. He has also taken an active share in the organization of his profession throughout the country.

W. A. Peace, manager of the Toronto Branch, is no stranger to Victoria, having visited here when the International Rotary Convention met at San Francisco in 1915, at which time he was vice-president. He is a past president of the Toronto Rotary Club.

Another Rotary leader is William Ardern, of Calgary, an officer of the club in that city.

S. J. L'Esperance, of Montreal, who was unable to attend the gathering, is president of the club, and now district governor of the Kiwanis Clubs in that section.

His family, however, is represented by Louis N. L'Esperance, a well-known musician in Montreal.

W. A. Fleming, of Calgary, is also popular as a musician in his city.

W. H. Seymour, of Hamilton, who radiates geniality, was a major overseas.

Some of the Athletes.

Some of the athletic men are J. G. Fitzpatrick, of Montreal, an Olympic athlete, John Parker, of Toronto, the actuary of the company, who is an expert canoeist, and W. G. Wood, of Toronto, a prominent golfer.

P. T. O'Gorman, of Sudbury, Ont., has turned from civil engineering to insurance. He surveyed extensively in New Ontario.

George A. Nichol, of London, is attending his first convention, having within twelve months of joining the company written the necessary $250,000 worth. He has a hobby in agriculture, with a fine farm in Middlesex county.

The men from large cities are surprised how F. E. Tilly, of Penticton, has qualified, as the placing of so much business in a district with a limited population is no easy matter.

J. A. Mackenzie has come right across the Dominion from Newfoundland, having an extensive business connection in St. John's, the capital of the ancient colony.

Some others in the party are: J. C. Joy, of Montreal; C. Platt, of Toronto; Israel Taylor; P. C. Morrow, of London, Ont.; J. E. Ryan, of Port Arthur, and Stanley Henderson, of Vancouver.

Objects of Meeting.

Mr. Peace summed up the situation of The Times last evening as an effort to get together to exchange ideas, and also for the purpose of educating the managers and agents about Canada.

He pointed out that the meetings were generally held in places attractive for their scenery and surroundings, and proved very beneficial.

Some of the party are planning a trip to Campbell River for fishing at the end of this week. They are all enthusiastic for the scenery and weather in Victoria at this time of year.

When Your Appetite Fails This Is What You Need

When the very thought of eating makes you feel dizzy, when you're run down, stomach in bad shape—you need a real housecleaning with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They tone up the liver, assist the stomach and improve digestion. The taste becomes aware of new flavors in food you never noticed before. You'll look and feel a whole lot better after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Many folks used this fine old remedy and nothing else kept them from the pink of condition all the time, 25c, at all dealers, or The Cataractose Co., Montreal—Advt.
